SOMERSET CASE WITH JURY

Fairless Makes Visit To Local Tin Plate Mills

Head Of Carnegie-Illinois Co., Inspects Shenango And New Castle Works

OTHER OFFICIALS OF COMPANY WITH HIM

Makes Informal Addresses To Workmen During His Visit To Mills

For the first time since he assumed the presidency of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, Benjamin F. Fairless is in New Castle today on an official inspection trip.

With him are the following executives, J. E. Lose, vice president in charge of operations W. C. Oberg, manager of operations for the Pittsburgh district, R. B. Saylor assistant to the manager of operations of the Pittsburgh District and William Voight, manager of public relations.

The morning hours of the day were taken up in an inspection trip through the Shenango Works of the corporation. After completing the trip Mr. Fairless said, "I am very pleased with the condition of the plant and with the job being done there." A meeting with the employes representatives followed.

Informal Talk

This meeting was an informal one and the remarks of Mr. Fairless were more an informal talk of a leader with his associates than it was a set address. To the representatives he said, in part: "Industrial strife, like war, profits no one. The employe representative system is not perfect, but it can be improved and is constantly being improved through co-operation. Certainly a system which provides for reasoning and understanding is superior to the one which provides for unreasonable demands and distrust."

"The World War caused great loss to every one. After peace came we began to ask what all the shooting was about. The history of industrial strife demonstrates the same idea. Strikes result in loss both to management and men."

At New Castle Works

This afternoon Mr. Fairless and his official party will inspect the New Castle Works.

At noon today a luncheon was held in the Castleton Hotel for the official party. Attending the luncheon with the party were Carl E. Crawford, general superintendent of Shenango Works, R. E. Sturdy, general superintendent of the New Castle Works and a group of department heads.

Late this afternoon the party will leave for Canton, O. Youngstown and Farrell plants have been inspected on this trip and other plants will follow in the course of the next few days.

Playing marbles may be a healthful game for boys and girls, but it might not prove so healthful if the habit of playing in roadways is continued. Quite a few children, lately, have been playing in the middle of the street, and they get so engrossed in the game that they do not notice approaching automobiles.

W. P. A. Will Aid In Free Public Library Project In This City

Announcement of the formal approval of a Works Progress Administration project for the remodelling of New Castle's old post office building into a modern library home was made today by Attorney Clarence A. Patterson, a member of the library's board of trustees.

The WPA's approval carries with it an appropriation of "approximately $28,000" and provides that the work shall be commenced in the near future, Mr. Patterson said.

Will Move WPA Office.

Headquarters of district 14 of the WPA now are located in the former post office structure at East North and North Mercer streets, and today's announcement means that in the near future that office must be relocated.

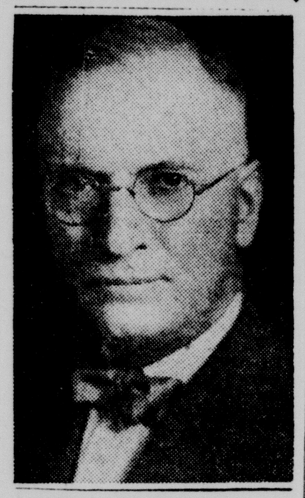

Immediately after learning of the approval of the renovation project yesterday, Attorney Patterson conferred with J. Vale Downie, the WPA's district administrator, over future plans.

"Naturally, we're pleased over the project's approval," commented Patterson, "but we're not going to chase the WPA office right out."

The library board's representative revealed no definite date for the

Four Are Held In Dukes' Case

Preliminary Hearing Is Conducted Before Alderman Wednesday Afternoon

JUSTICE REFUSES TO CHANGE CHARGE

Refusing the motion of defense counsel Attorney Edwin K. Logan, to reduce the charges against Angelo Pedonesi and Sam Traci from murder to manslaughter, Alderman O. H. P. Green held the men on Wednesday afternoon for the March term of criminal court. At the same time he held Paul Perconti and Sam Santucci in $10,000 bail on the charges of accessory after the fact. All the men are held in connection with the death of Officer Robert H. Dukes, who died February 13 after being beaten up by two men on February 9.

The preliminary hearing before Alderman Green on Wednesday was more or less of a formality. The commonwealth put on only sufficient testimony to warrant holding the men and the defense offered no testimony whatever.

For the commonwealth Chief Ralph Criswell, Detective Chief Ray Showalter and Detective Thomas Lynch testified to having answered the call on February 9, of finding Dukes in the New Castle hospital and of his subsequent death. They also told of getting the men in

Controversy Over Governor Earle's Two-Year Budget

Republicans Claim That Reduction Presented Is Only "Paper" Reduction

GOVERNOR CLAIMS $25,950,000 CUT

Opponents Say $10,000,000 More Will Be Paid Than In Present Biennium

By A. NORMAN GAGE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25—Gov. George H. Earle's day-old budget became the center of controversy today when it became evident that the new program will increase taxes $10,000,000 above the level of the present biennium.

Republicans, carefully scrutinizing the two-year taxing and spending plan, are preparing to attack the budget from this angle, countering administration claims that a reduction of $25,950,000 would be effected.

Matter of Divergent Comparisons.

As usual in the inevitably political debates over state finances, the wide difference of opinion about the $354,185,206 general fund budget is a matter of interpretation and divergent comparisons. So far as the average citizen is concerned, the growing controversy simmers down to these facts:

Pennsylvania taxpayers, during the budget recommended for the next two years, would pay $10,069,628 more taxes than they paid during the biennium ending May 31, this year.

At the same time they will pay $25,950,000 less than they would pay if all the present normal and emergency taxes were to be continued.

"Paper" Reduction.

Republican critics contend that the increase from 1935-37 tax payments is actual and that the decrease emphasized by the governor is a "paper" reduction. They base their charges on the fact that total general fund collections for the current biennium, as contained in the budget, are $344,015,578, as compared with estimated tax collections of $354,185,206 for 1937-39. This increase, they argue, is a fact while the "reduction" stressed in the bud-

Trooper's Fate Given To Jury At Noon Today

Four Possible Verdicts Are Outlined To Jury In Judge's Charge

COURTROOM LOCKED DURING CHARGE

Ten Men And Two Women On Jury Deliberating On Verdict

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

COURTHOUSE, SOMERSET, Pa., Feb. 25.—The fate of State Trooper Stacey Gunderman, defendant in one of Pennsylvania's most sensational police cases, was placed in the hands of a jury of ten men and two women at noon today.

In his hour long, methodical charge to the jury, reviewing in careful detail the death of Frank C. Monaghan, 64, in the Bertillon room of the Fayette county courthouse, Supreme Court Justice George W. Maxey outlined four possible verdicts.

Possible Verdicts

They were:

Second degree murder—10 to 20 years.

Voluntary manslaughter—6 to 12 years.

Involuntary manslaughter—3 to 6 years.

Acquittal—Freedom.

Two alternate jurors in the case were discharged by Judge Maxey as the jury retired to begin its deliberations.

The first degree verdict of death in the electric chair which Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti had demanded was ruled out by Judge Maxey late yesterday. He found, he told the jury, after careful study of the evidence, nothing to warrant a first degree verdict.

Guard Courtroom

Justice Maxey ordered all doors to the courtroom locked and guarded during his charge. Newspapermen and the telegraph messenger boys bearing their copy to telegraph operators in the basement of the crowded rural courthouse were stranded. Burly state troopers kept guard.

Outcome of the case against Gunderman may determine the disposition of the cases against six other men indicted with him on murder charges and five others indicted as accessories who allegedly sought to "cover up" Monaghan's death. The MADRID, Feb. 25.—Loyalist columns streamed down the snowy slopes of the Sierra Nevada today and fell ferociously upon the army of Rebel Gen. Queipo de Llano, dangerously weakened by dispatch of large reinforcements to the crucial Madrid front.

"Loyalists captured several important villages in the Sierra Nevada section of the southern front," it was announced at Valencia, "following a brilliant Loyalist operation, the insurgents left many dead, including Germans, Italians, and Spanish monarchists."

Charging that Algerian natives, "sent by France," took part in the Loyalist counter-offensive near Motril, Gen. de Llano asserted, however, that the Leftists were "easily beaten off."

New Troubles Facing Peggy

District Attorney's Office Investigating Background Of Her Recent Suit

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Peggy Garcia, with the trial of her $500,000 heart balm suit against David Rubinoff behind her, was faced with new legal troubles today.

The district attorney's office was investigating the background of her unsuccessful action against the radio violinist, while her second husband, Michael La Rocca, announced that he was going to sue her for annulment of their marriage, which took place last September. La Rocca declared the marriage was never consummated.

The investigation by the district attorney was at the instigation of Supreme Court Justice Salvatore Cotillo, who dismissed Peggy's breach of promise suit on the motion of her own attorney after she had admitted that she was married in 1925 at the age of 11 years and two months.

Although Peggy insisted that she was a kissless bride to her Virginia husband, Judge Cotillo held that the marriage was legal so that she could not have lawfully accepted the proposal of marriage which she claimed she received from Rubinoff three years ago.

Political rumors had it Park would be offered a judiciary nomination by the Democrats, with the implied hope his vacant office could then be won from the Republicans.

Women Seek To Join Men's "Suicide Strike"

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 25.—One hundred grim-faced women today marched straight towards the muzzles of army machine guns in a vain effort to join their husbands and fathers in the second day of their "suicide strike" deep in the "Five Churches" Coal Mine near Pees.

Refusing to halt in spite of the threat of machine-gun fire, the Amazons were finally repulsed by the fists and rifle butts of hundreds of soldiers.

Third Man Dies

As the strike neared its crisis, a third man died as a result of last night's furious battle when the soldiers repelled other miners' attempts to join the strikers.

Murky waters, rising steadily since the striking 400 smashed the pumps, surged 50 feet overnight towards the 150-foot level where the half-starved miners, their lungs straining in the poisoned air, huddled in absolute blackness.

They could probably hear, echoed along the mine drifts, the wails and screams of their women-folk being held back at the pit-heads.

Twenty-four of the strikers were

FIND MODERN "JEAN VALJEAN"

Arrest Is Made At Pittsburgh

Man Escaped From Ohio Prison 17 Years Ago, It Is Admitted

HAD RE-ESTABLISHED HIMSELF IN SOCIETY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—The story of a modern "Jean Valjean" was unfolded here today.

Terrence J. Cannon, 38, a foreman for the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation, a former policeman in suburban Swissvale and a highly respected churchman and citizen, was arrested here and admitted, according to police, that he escaped from the Ohio state penal farm at London 17 years ago.

He had been listed by Ohio authorities as James J. McCann, according to Detective Inspector Walter Monaghan and county detectives who made the arrest. They said McCann told them he had been sentenced for one to 10 years for robbing a man in Akron of a few dollars. He had already served three years, more than the minimum, but was denied release on parole, he explained, because no one would guarantee him work or vouch for his behavior. So, according to the detectives, he escaped.

In those 17 years, he married and became the father of two girls, 7 and 14, according to police. But, at the same time, he rehabilitated himself and re-established himself in society. His wife, his children, his neighbors and his friends knew nothing of his past. They know of him only as peaceful, law-abiding and industrious citizen.

Cannon was quoted as telling how after fleeing the farm he went to Grafton, Ill., and then to Pittsburgh in 1922; how he became manager of a grocery store here, resigned to become a foreman for the American Steel & Wire company for seven years; how in 1931 he became a private policeman in an exclusive residential section here and then in 1935 joined Jones & Laughlin.

Will Protest W. P. A. Layoffs

Impending Reduction In W. P. A. Forces Will Bring Opposition

More than 200 quarry workers of WPA, from project No. 11395, held a meeting last night, at the Workers Alliance headquarters, 222 South Croton avenue, New Castle. Thomas Hanlon, chairman of the job grievence committee, and vice president of the Workers Alliance here, was in the chair. Addresses were made by Reverend S. J. Walker and Samuel Reed, president and organizer, respectively.

Report is made that more than one hundred new members were signed up for the Workers Alliance at last night's meeting. These men voted unanimously to protest against the new threat of lay-offs on WPA, which according to J. Vale Downie, district administrator, will probably start around April 1, and will affect 38 per cent of the present working force on WPA in District 14. Copies of the protest resolution were ordered sent at once to President Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins, Governor Earle, Edward N. Jones, state administrator and J. Vale Downie, district administrator.

Another resolution was adopted to congratulate Governor Earle for his message to the legislature yesterday in which he urged the abolition of county poor boards, and the adoption of the report of the Goodrich committee.

The Workers Alliance was urged in a third resolution to initiate a district-wide campaign to fight layoffs. These recommendations to local No. 65 of the Workers Alliance include the following: (1) To call a city-wide protest meeting; (2) to issue and circulate petitions; (3) to call a district-wide conference of all labor and fraternal organizations; (4) to proceed to organize all projects 100 per cent by April 1.

Several hundred Ethiopians, it was understood, were executed after the Addis Ababa bombing, in which Marshal Graziani was wounded.

Another unverified report said 3,000 of his troops were annihilated in a march on the capital.

The Italians have been trying to trap Ras Desta ever since the Fascists captured Addis Ababa. Repeatedly disproving official Rome statements that Ethiopia had been "pacified", Ras Desta raided Italian contonments from strongholds high in the western mountains, harrying and eluding repeated punitive expeditions sent out to get him.

commonwealth charged that Monaghan was brutally beaten to death while undergoing a "third degree" questioning concerning his slashing of County Detective John C. Wall.

Indicted on murder charges were: District Attorney James A. Reilly of Fayette county; State Trooper Anthony Sanute; County Detective Wilbert (Patsy) Minerd; Night Chief of Police Charles Malik; Deputy Sheriff J. A. Hann and Assistant District Attorney Harry Byrne.

Indicted as accessories were: Coroner S. A. Baltz; Dr. Cataldo Corrado; Dr. H. E. Ralston, and Stephen and Andrew Haky, brother funeral directors who first prepared Monaghan's body for burial and were alleged to have attempted to conceal evidences of the 11 fractured ribs, the splintered jawbone, the broken nose, the torn ear and the more than 50 abrasions, lacerations and bruises.

In his own defense, Gunderman, who sat impassively at the counsel table as the judge charged the jury, testified he was forced to hurl Monaghan over his head by Jiu Jitsu and leap upon him when the man attacked him from behind.

charge in Cleveland, O., with the exception of Santucci, who has a place of business on Long avenue.

Chief Witness

Clarence Grannis was the chief witness for the commonwealth and he repeated his story he told to the coroner's jury some days ago. He had returned from the tin mill about 3:30 in the afternoon, saw three men engaged in a fight on a walk between 903 and 905 Moravia street and said that one man, Traci, was standing on the man on the ground, Dukes, and that Pedonesi was kicking him. He took Dukes to the hospital and identified the assailants when they were returned to New Castle.

Dr. Samuel W. Perry testified that Dukes had received a fractured septum of the nose and a bad fracture of the tibia in his left ankle. Subsequently he said gangrene developed and Dukes died on February 13. He said death came from secondary shock superimposed by the attack.

Logan argued that there was no evidence of murder, but there might be evidence of manslaughter. He said that the men had been in a fight with Dukes and that Pedonesi had assumed that Dukes was merely scuffed up which was the reason he (Pedonesi) returned from Cleveland without extradition, believing he could pay a small fine and square the affair.

District Attorney Mont L. Alley said that he had not put all his witnesses upon the stand, but only enough to warrant holding the men for the grand jury. This was done.

WPA's moving. The library, however, will take possession before many months pass.

Modern Library Proposed.

Plans for the building's revamping, drawn up by the W. G. Eckles company, call for one of the finest library homes in this part of the state," Mr. Patterson declared.

Throughout last fall the library trustees sponsored a campaign for funds for the purchase and remodelling of the building. Citizens rallied to its support and that money will also be applied to the work ahead.

In the new library will be various departmental rooms and a small auditorium for the use of community groups. Its spacious rooms will be a complete remedy for crowded and cramped conditions that now prevail at the present library at North Jefferson and West North streets.

Civic leaders hailed with delight news of the WPA's approval today as the word became known to those close to the library board.

Pupils To Perform

Mrs. E. O. Fankhauser will present New Castle and Ellwood City piano students in a series of two lecture piano recitals next week, at her home on Crawford Terrace.

The evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday, March 2 and 3, have been selected as the dates. About 25 pupils will participate.

CONTINENTAL CLUB GUESTS AT DINNER

A beautifully appointed 7 o'clock dinner was an enjoyable event last evening for Continental Club associates, when Miss Mollie Komarc, of Harrison street, entertained at a prominent downtown tea room. Mrs. J. Wylie Schiek was a special guest who shared.

Red, white and blue colors, suggestive of George Washington's birthday, were used effectively throughout. After the serving of a tempting menu, the time was devoted to card playing. Prizes fell to Myrna Smith and Jeanne Bloomer. The galloping trophy was captured by Mae McConahy.

At the next meeting on March 17, Mrs. William Patterson and Miss Myrna Smith will be co-hostesses at the home of the former on Scott street.

Williamson-Nickerson.

The marriage of Florence Loretta Williamson and Paul Irwin Nickerson, both of Greenville, was solemnized February 19 in the parsonage of the Zion Evangelical Reformed church, that city, with Rev. Paul J. Dundore officiating. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Williamson were the attendants.

Mr. Nickerson, a graduate of Penn high, Greenville, in the class of 1924, attended Thiel college and is a graduate of Kent university. He is a member of Theta Kappa Nu fraternity. He is employed at New Castle.

T. O. T. Dinner.

Gathering in a downtown tea room Wednesday evening, T. O. T. club members were pleasantly entertained by Miss Goldie Householder of Neshannock avenue.

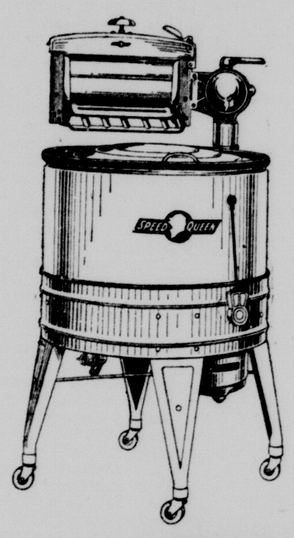

The group whiled away the hours playing cards, prizes going to Thelma Cramer and Mrs. Louella Hartzell. Door prize was awarded to Coletta Priesel. At an appointed time refreshments were served.

In two weeks Mrs. Louella Hartzell, East Washington street, will receive the club.

NEWSPAPERS NOT CRIME SHEETS

THE open season on the press seems to be 365 days of every year. Wherever one goes, where speeches are made, one can expect to see some moralist take a pot shot at the newspapers, flaying them for over-emphasis on crime news to the exclusion or suppression of wholesome news.

Some newspapers have been known to do this on occasions, other to make it a habit, yet the rank and file of daily newspapers will bear the scrutiny of the open-minded individual at any time, and probably will pass inspection.

A few weeks ago, however, the students of the School of Journalism, University of Pittsburgh, selected 13 newspapers of the state from communities of approximately 50,000 population and subjected them to the acid test of analysis.

What they found was that the editors of the newspapers devoted their space to 12 times as much feature material and general news as they did to crime and scandal.

Taken on the basis of the number of columns devoted by the newspapers to the various subjects, the investigation showed: Features 12.5; General News 11.71; Comics 8.27; Sports 6.82; Society 6.37; Editorials 3.6; Business 2.64; Politics and Government 2.58; and Crime 2.14.

DUST STORM MENACE

To many persons, a dust storm is merely a nuisance. Its larger significance, however, is that of a menace. In fact, a serious threat to the productivity of the good earth is being laid like a blighting smoke-screen over vast areas of the country. In a sense, it is making deserts out of regions of fruiting farm lands and smiling pastures.

The average person understands in a general way that a dust storm is caused through the lifting of light dry soil by the wind and its further transport at the caprice of the wind. More discerning observation, however, traces the origin to the Pandora's box of war. It is said that when men were called away from the wheat-fields of Europe, the consequent rocketing of the price of wheat precipitated a great rush of would-be wheat-growers to the high, semi-arid, dry country in Oklahoma, Texas, Eastern Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and the extreme Western counties of Kansas, where they plowed up the sod for wheat planting by a process known as dry farming. It appears that these immense table lands of desert soil were thus deprived of their natural protection again the wind, namely the foliage of the region, and became sinister areas of dust. After the war came a wet cycle, but a dry cycle thereafter set in, its powerful winds acting like steam shovels to deposit the pulverized earth over the illimitable spread of lower lands.

The hope for settling the dust storm source looks largely to a solution of the problem of heavy rain. Meanwhile the administration is marshaling governmental agencies to fasten or anchor the Midwest's rich farm soil against the sweep of dust storms. It is obviously a staggering project for the nation's soil erosion service.

THE HIGHEST TRIBUTE

We all take air, light and water for granted. The better they are, the less we think about them or appreciate them. It is only when the supply of these necessities is poor and inferior that we kick.

The same situation exists in connection with the essential part played by the railroads, both locally and nationally, in mobilizing and making effective relief efforts in connection with the Ohio and Mississippi valley floods. We just take railroad service for granted, and the better the railroads do their job, the less we say about them.

The railroads on both sides of the Ohio river operated their trains just as close to the flood lines as a train could be taken; set up emergency terminal facilities wherever possible; maintained local shuttle service, at heavy expense, in those cases where through service was cut off; brought in the great bulk of all the supplies of food, fuel and equipment which went into the flood-stricken area; took out great numbers of refugees; and, in general, made possible the work of relief and rescue.

Without the public even knowing about it, the railroads mobilized car supplies to take care of not only the people, the livestock and the relief needs of threatened areas, but also the commerce. Coal mines have been kept in operation by reason of the ability of the railroads to divert and marshal coal cars wherever needed. Thousands of extra box cars were mobilized with the idea that if evacuation of the lower Mississippi valley should become necessary on any large scale, the car supply should be available to bring out not only the people and livestock, but their cotton, manufactured goods, stocks in trade, and the materials necessary to enable them to resume business when the water receded. All of this was done quietly and without fuss, as part of the organized service of the American railroads. Much of it was done without cost to relief authorities or to refugees.

Railroads in the flood emergency, as in their everyday service, are pretty much taken for granted in the United States. When a railroad took into Louisville in one night 35 carloads of coal and trainloads of food and other supplies, that wasn't news. That's what the railroads were supposed to do. When an airplane unloaded a crate of bread at the airport one would think that the miracle of the loaves and the fishes was about to be repeated.

After all, taking the railroads for granted, like light, air and water, is probably the highest tribute to them, but, nevertheless, they are organizations run by human beings to whom a word of gratitude and appreciation is not amiss when it is so justly deserved. Just being taken for granted becomes rather stale for the best of us.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE

I LOST my parents several years ago, one passing within six months of the other. My brothers and sisters, who lived near them, saw to it that our parents were taken to church as long as they were able to go.

My wife's parents live with us. Their religious life is very real and vital to them also. One or both of us go with them to church. As for myself, I would not always choose to go where they prefer to go, but for their sakes I can easily adapt myself. The church service means so much to them. How they would miss it if denied, even with the radio as a substitute! Incidentally, I hope my wife and I get some real values out of this church service. Even if we did not, there would be large dividends in knowing we had afforded so genuine pleasure for these devout old folk.

I have no quarrel to pick with fathers and mothers who do not go to church. But in the long run, they lose, perhaps, a great deal. I don't know; neither is it any business of mine, whether any of my readers go to church or not. But for a great many persons, religious worship might well be worth giving a fair trial.

Try Another Kind

Probably those who can't seem to find values in the church they used to attend, might find values in another kind of church. But how curious it is that so many parents would rather see their children never go to church at all than to join or attend a church different from the choice of these parents! They fail to see that persons with so widely different individualities naturally should be expected to differ in their religious interests and beliefs.

I wish the husband to whom church attendance has little or no appeal, but for whose wife public religious worship is indispensable to happiness, might realize what pleasure he could afford her by going to church wth her. Surely this consideration for her sake would add tremendously to their comradeship. These compensations might eventually help him find some values for himself in the church attendance. On the other hand, I wish the wife whose husband does not choose to go to church with her would not take offense at his choice nor preach to him. Her greatest hope to win his company to church or his acceptance of her faith is through her gentle, tender love and kindness.

All Of Us

THE BLUE STUFF

They were looking for gold and they found it. . . . Long ago in the canyons of the eastern slopes of the Sierra they toiled slowly up the ravines looking for outcroppings, looking for the precious stuff. They'd take a few samples and wash the dirt in a tiny spring and find a few cents' worth of gold in their pans and set up their rockers and go to work.

And then they'd curse a heavy blue stuff that clogged their rockers and made it almost impossible for a fellow to get out enough gold to pay for grub and tarantula juice whiskey. They thought that "blue stuff" was lead, and who would suffer and toil for lead. . . . So they moved on, looking for likelier, easier pickings and left the "blue stuff" to wiser men.

Because it wasn't lead at all. It was something not so precious as gold, but far more precious than lead. It was silver! And when men who knew their business came that way, the great Comstock boom arrived and the world went mad over the most spectacular silver deposit in history.

And I wonder how many an old prospector in the years to come remember how he'd struggled up those rocky ravines and fought with that blue stuff that choked his rockers—and how often he cursed the ignorance that kept him from knowing silver when he had it in his hands.

Not only prospectors do that thing, and live to grieve. Many a man has held happiness in his hands and not recognized it, has tossed aside as worthless and gone looking for some spectacular riches that will never be his. Many a man has raised his sights and looked for a sudden miracle of fortune, overlooked the peaceful riches that lay in the quiet routine of his days. Had the blue stuff of silver in his hands and thrown it away for the dream of gold that will never be his. And lived to mourn: "If only I had known—if only I'd been wiser, less impatient!"

Look into your own life, this day, and see if the blue stuff of happiness is there.

WHY BILLS ARE HIGH

A woman, after much persuasion, finally decided to have an electric refrigerator installed in her home to replace the old-fashioned refrigerator and daily delivery of ice. She was assured that the expense of running it would be no more than the buying of ice.

The first month her bill was very high, and she called the salesman for an explanation. He agreed the amount was excessive. He had the apparatus examined by one of the mechanics, and promised a much lower bill for the next month. When the bill for the second month arrived it was even larger than the first one.

An expert was sent to the home, and arrived unannounced. He asked to be shown the machine at once. When he and the housewife entered the kitchen, what was their surprise to find the door of the refrigerator wide open! And Amanda, the maid, was standing directly in front of it, ironing and singing happily!

When questioned, she replied: "Oh, yassur, ah always opens the door when ah irons. It gives me such a nice breeze on mah back."

Over their cocktails two local women were discussing their husbands.

The first woman complained that her husband seldom came home from his club until long after midnight.

QUEER INSURANCE POLICIES

The scope of insurance is wider than you might think. It isn't confined to life, automobile, marine and the other usual types. There have been many policies issued for many strange things.

Perhaps you have heard of people taking out insurance against rain, or taking out insurance for rain. Others have obtained insurance against war.

But we think the strangest of all was the policy issued to a man in London. It insured him against risk of seeing a ghost. We don't know whether he ever collected.

Another Englander took out life insurance covering the fish in a river. A pipeline from the river to a reservoir nearby was being chemically cleaned and he was afraid the chemicals would kill the fish.

A Londoner who had gone to Chicago to live obtained an insurance policy which insured him against the distortion of his accent by the dialect of the middle west.

A candidate for the job of jailer in a Kentucky hamlet advertises that he is handy with the gun, being an expert possum hunter. However, the public, we're sure, is more interested in obtaining the services of an expert rat catcher.

Judging from the Monday casualty lists, it isn't always the motorist headed for or from a big party who has such a bangup time.

DEAR MISS MARKEL—I have an upright piano which, although out-of-date, I must keep in my home. It simply dwarfs everything else in the room. Is there any way I can remedy this condition? My living room is fairly large.

Mrs. D. D. D.

Answer—You must have another large piece of furniture to give balance to your room.

On the wall opposite to that against which the piano is placed put a book case or secretary. If you have neither, your sofa with either a tapestry or a large picture hanging over it will help to supply the needed balance.

Be sure to place your piano flat against the wall and not catercornered.

Living Room Rug

Dear Miss Markel—I am going to buy a new floor covering for my living room. Do you think I should buy several small rugs or one large one. My floors are very attractive.

G. P.

Answer—If your living room is small, you had better buy one large rug, as scatter rugs have a tendency to decrease the size of a room. If your room is large, you may, without any detriment to it, use small rugs.

When Lincoln Spoke On Court.
Dred Scott Decision Opposed.
Text Of Criticism Is Given.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

SO MANY references have been made to Lincoln on the supreme court issue that we have been busy once more studying his views.

The most widely quoted Lincoln statement is the one contained in his inaugural address of 1861, when he said that if the court were to fix the policy of the government by its decisions, "the people have ceased to be their own rulers, having to that extent practically resigned their government into the hands of the eminent tribunal."

Lincoln, however, spoke chiefly against accepting decisions as final rather than against the court itself.

Lincoln said a great deal, because of the Dred Scott decision, which he opposed. One of the most important speeches Lincoln made on this decision was at Springfield, Ill., on June 26, 1857. We shall quote from it.

LINCOLN ON COURT

Lincoln said then:

"Judicial decisions have two uses: First, to absolutely determine the case decided; and, secondly, to indicate to the public how other similar cases will be decided when they arise. For the latter use, they are called 'precedents' and 'authorities'.

"We believe as much as Judge Douglas (his opponent), perhaps more, in obedience to and respect for the judicial department of government. We think its decisions on constitutional questions, when fully settled, should control not only the particular cases decided, but the general policy of the country, subject to be disturbed only by amendments of the constitution, as provided in that instrument itself.

"More than this would be revolution.

"But we think the Dred Scott decision is erroneous. We know the court that made it has often overruled its own decisions, and we shall do what we can to have it overrule this. We offer no resistance to it."

CRITICISM OF COURT

"Judicial decisions are of greater or less authority as precedents according to circumstances. That this should be so, accords both with common sense and the customary understanding of the legal profession.

"If this important decision had been made by the unanimous concurrence of the judges, and without any apparent partisan bias, and in accordance with legal public expectation, and with the steady practice of the departments throughout our history, and had been in no part based on assumed historical facts which are not really true; or if wanting in some of these, it had been before the court more than once, and had there been affirmed and reaffirmed through a course of years—it then might be, perhaps would be, factious, nay, even revolutionary, not to acquiesce in it as a precedent.

"But when, as is true, we find it wanting in all these claims to the public confidence, it is not resistance, it is not factious, it is not even disrespectful to treat it as not having yet quite established a settled doctrine for the country."

ATTACKS DECISION

Then, using the assertions of the judges themselves, Lincoln tore the decision to shreds. Sentence by sentence, he disputed the court's findings.

This speech is one of the most noteworthy in the English language and deserves intense study by all Americans, as it traces the intent of the Declaration of Inde-

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SUCH EFFORTS HELP

Consumption of lamb throughout the country is increasing as a result of the current campaign conducted by 37,000 chain stores in 48 states to help market, at reasonable prices, the surplus crop of nearly 3,000,000 lambs, a most palatable and nourishing food.

The campaign was inaugurated at the request of the National Lamb Producers' and Feeders' Committee when a large increase over normal lamb production and a depressed market threatened farmers and stock raisers with heavy losses.

The gravity of conditions in lamb areas preceding the campaign are shown in this statement from W. P. Wing, manager of a western wool growers' association, who pointed out that there were 80 per cent more lambs on feed in seven western states than there were a year ago.

In California the supply of lambs is 130 per cent greater than that of the last five-year period. The growers wish to move these lambs without loss and are greatly encouraged by the farmer-consumer campaign that has been instituted by these national food chains.

Such campaigns, designed as they are to prevent distress price collapses, are in the interest of the consumer as well as the producer because if surplus farm commodities were dumped on an unprepared market, the loss would be appalling. The economic welfare of all is directly related to the economic welware of agriculture. The farm market absorbs a very high percentage of the products of our factories, and it is the source of employment for millions of workers in all fields. Collapse of the purchasing power of even a small segment of this market would hit us all.

Campaigns that move farm products are economically and socially sound, and make a definite forward step in attaining agricultural stablization.

But does Mr. Wallace approve?

But soon some good friends comes along
Who offers me a ride.

"Jump in," says he, "and ride with me;
With you I'd like to talk!"
I answer: "No, that cannot be;
My doctor bids me walk!"

Sometimes we draw an angry crowd,
Since traffic is delayed
The while I argue long and loud
Why Doc must be obeyed.

And since from friends I cannot hide
I've given it up in vain.
I find it's easier to ride
Than why I walk explain.

Bible Thought For Today

And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low.—Isaiah 2:17

I've often wondered who it is the Jones are tryin' to keep up with.

A deserted village is one that didn't git a new postoffice lately.

STATE'S COLLEGE ENROLLMENT LARGE

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—Of America's 1,000,000 college students, Dr. Lester K. Ade, Superintendent of Public Instruction, said today more than 90,000 or about nine per cent., are enrolled in some seventy accredited institutions of learning in Pennsylvania.

"Approximately 80,000 of these students are pursuing work at the accredited Liberal Arts Colleges, and 10,000 at the State Teachers Colleges," Dr. Ade stated. "Of the 80,000 in the former institutions almost 50,000 are full-time students while some 30,000 are part-time enrollees. Likewise, 8,000 of those enrolled in the teacher education institutions are full-time, while almost 2,000 are part-time extension, or studio students."

It is estimated that there are approximately 3,000 Pennsylvanians attending colleges outside the home state; and conversely, there are many persons from other states enrolled in Pennsylvania colleges.

New State Taxes Must Be Paid As Return Is Made

Secretary Kelly, Of Department Of Revenue, Acts On Legislative Amendments

MARCH FIFTEENTH LAST DAY TO PAY

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 25—Secretary of Revenue John B. Kelly said today that his department has acted swiftly to put into effect the provisions of amendments to the fiscal code, effecting corporation taxes which were approved by the Legislature on February 2.

The following taxes, Secretary Kelly pointed out, must be paid concurrently with the filing of reports. Each is governed by the self-assessment feature of the Act.

They include the franchise, tax on foreign bonus, capital stock, corporate loans and loans of political subdivisions, taxes on certain types of shares of Building and Loan Associations, the tax on gross receipts of private bankers and the tax on the net earnings of mutual savings institutions without capital stock.

All tax reports and, consequently, tax payments, are due on March 15 next. Forms already have been distributed to all corporations together with instructions for computing the tax.

Must Pay Interest

In addition to the remittance, Secretary Kelly said that each tax return must be accompanied by a computation sheet made out in duplicate. Deficiencies in payment will bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent a year from the date payment was made to sixty days after the settlement is made by the fiscal officers.

After that, if the tax still remains unpaid the rate of interest will be 12 percent per year.

Prior to the recent enactment of amendments to the Fiscal Code covering the payment of these taxes, the corporation taxes were not payable until sixty days after settlements were made.

"The change in the system of collection and settlement will prove beneficial both to the state and the tax paying corporations," Mr. Kelly said.

"The state will be better able to budget its finances by knowing specifically where revenues will be received and it will be possible to divide more effectively the work of reviewing and settling tax returns over the entire year.

"The uncertainty of knowing when settlements would be made in the past has prevented many corporations from adequately providing their payment of taxes.

"The removal of this uncertainty now will enable corporations in the future to budget their state taxes more accurately. No longer will one corporation receive a tax invoice for the same period, one month to a year later than another corporation."

Second Badminton Tourney March 19

Players From Canada, Michigan, Ohio, New York And Pennsylvania To Enter

Arrangements for the second annual Western Pennsylvania Amateur Badminton Championships have been completed, John P. Byers tournament manager stated today. He also said that indications were that the success of 1936 would be left far in the ruck when the '37 championships were over.

The tournament takes place March 19 and 20 in the George Washington junior high school gymnasium each day's play starting at seven in the evening. On the closing evening of the tournament there will be a Badminton ball in the Castleton Hotel which is limited to 60 couples. The ball really amounts to a patron's ball as those securing tickets will be listed as patrons of the tournament and also will have access to the tournament play without further charge.

Any amateur in the United States or Canada is eligible to enter the tournament and the Canadian entries are expected to exceed those of last year. The second leg of the Men's Singles, which carries with it the Castleton Cup will be played as will the Women's Singles carrying the News Cup with it. The winner of the 1936 Castleton Cup was Joe Zaharko, of Toronto, Canada and the News Cup winner was Mrs. E. J. Rial, of Buffalo, N. Y.

In addition there will be the men's doubles, the women's doubles, the mixed doubles, and the special Rain-Crow's Consolation, carrying with it a genuine tin cup and dipper.

The tournament of 1936 introduced badminton to New Castle in an official way. After seeing the Canadian aces flash their way through the tournament the players from this district determined to show some thing this year and many new players have come up, It is possible that Jack Purcell, champion of the world and Walter Cramer, of Detroit, national amateur champion may be here as guests and officials.

Cary Grant says:

"a light smoke rates aces high with my throat"

"Luckies have been my cigarette for five years now. I rate them a 4 star cigarette. They're always good to the throat, and taste so much better than other cigarettes that it seems to me this 'Toasting' process is a swell idea. Yes, a light smoke like Luckies rates aces high with both my throat and taste."

Cary Grant

APPEARING IN THE NEW COLUMBIA PICTURE, "WHEN YOU'RE IN LOVE"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Grant verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

SECURIAY LEVY DEADLINE NEAR, JORDAN WARNS

By the close of the week, Lawrence county and other Pennsylvania employers must pay their first unemployment compensation taxes.

The tax, County Supervisor Ralph T. Jordan reminded today, is nine-tenths of one per cent of all wages paid to employes last year. In addition, employers of eight or more must pay one-tenth of one per cent to the federal government.

Jordan pointed out that the unemployment compensation tax is the second, and last, phase of the social security program to affect Pennsylvania employers financially.

Many Reports Filed.

Over 1,000 Lawrence county employers today had mailed in their reports to Harrisburg, Mr. Jordan's office reported. A large number still remains to submit reports.

Originally, the State Unemployment Compensation board had set January 31 as the deadline for compensation payments, but later it was moved up to February 28.

Stomach Gas So Bad Seems To Hurt Heart
"The gas on my stomach was so bad I could not eat or sleep. Even my heart seemed to hurt. A friend suggested Adlerika. The first dose I took brought me relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine and never felt better." —Mrs. Jas. Filler.
Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels while ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only. Adlerika gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old, poisonous matter that you would not believe was in your system and that has been causing gas pains, sour stomach, nervousness and headaches for months.
Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika greatly reduces bacteria and colon bacilli."
Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and stubborn constipation. Eckerd's.

"Corkey" at work

Residents in Newark, O., wondered why newspapers disappeared from front porches. And doubly scratched their collective heads over the fact that only home town papers would disappear. Investigation proved that a five-year-old Boston bull, "Corkey", owned by a Newark resident, was the culprit. "Corkey", with a paper in his jaws, is shown above.

W.P.A. Band Will Present Concert At New Bedford Church

First Appearance For W. P. A. Orchestra At New Bedford, Tonight

Director Ben Shulansky, of the WPA orchestra, announced today that a concert will be given this evening at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, New Bedford.

A capacity crowd is anticipated to witness the first appearance of the local musical organization in that community. On Friday afternoon in the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school auditorium, the WPA orchestra will offer two concerts for pupils of that institution.

Through the courtesy of Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, who has granted the use of the Ben Franklin auditorium, the public will have an opportunity to hear the orchestra present a concert at 8 o'clock Friday evening. Unless accompanied by their parents, no children will be admitted at the evening performance, Director Shulansky announced. Admission is free.

The Townsmen Mark Ninth Anniversary

Young Men's Civic Group Holds Annual Dinner Here Last Night

Nine years of unbroken community service was climaxed when members of The Townsmen, young men's service club, attended their ninth annual banquet here last night. The organization, which for years functioned as the New Castle chapter of the Phalanx fraternity, was founded in February of 1928.

President Dean M. Staley took charge of the program following the dinner and introduced John R. Hodge as the evening's toastmaster. Hodge called upon several past presidents of the group for short talks. All the former presidents were introduced.

At the close, Joseph R. McFate, toastmaster for the community father's and son's banquet which The Townsmen will sponsor at the Cathedral on Friday night, announced the evening program. General Chairman Alfred H. Owens also told of the banquet plans.

Cards were enjoyed after the speaking.

Edward J. Cox was chairman of the banquet, held in a local tearoom.

Earlier Maple Sugar Season Is Predicted

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—Secretary James F. Bogardus of the Department of Forests and Waters, said today that reports from district foresters in Pennsylvania show the maple sugar season will be much earlier this year than usual, due largely to the mild winter weather.

More than a half million maple trees are ordinarily tapped in Pennsylvania each year. The foresters state that the variable yield in maple sap and its products depend largely upon weather conditions. The season may last anywhere from two to eight weeks during February and March. High altitudes may have the effect of delaying the flow of the sap, as well as prolonging its duration. Day temperatures rising above 30 degrees Fahrenheit, frosty nights, and a slow change from winter to spring, are the best conditions for a good flow of sap. A region where the ground thaws quickly and the temperature varies little from day to night, is not suitable.

Production of maple sugar and syrup, distinctly American products, is confined chiefly to the beech-birch and maple forest types of northern Pennsylvania, New England, Canada and west of the lake states. In Pennsylvania the industry centers in the northern tier counties where this type of forest predominates.

Although the northern tier counties as a group lead in maple syrup and sugar products, the southern border county of Somerset also has an intensive sugar maple industry. The unique position of Somerset county is attributed to its high altitude with a correspondingly typical northern climate, and an abundance of sugar maple trees.

The yield of individual maple trees, Secretary Bogardus points out, depends upon their size, location any quantity. Trees from eight to ten inches are not usually tapped. From five to 40 gallons of sap are obtained from a tree during the season. One tree can be counted upon to produce from a pint to one gallon of syrup or one to seven pounds of sugar. A 32-gallon barrel of sap is needed to make one gallen of syrup or eight pounds of sugar.

pendence and the constitution in a manner seldom, if ever, surpassed.

UNRELENTING

Lincoln was unrelenting in his attack on the Dred Scott decision.

In his notable reply to Judge Douglas at Chicago, on Popular Sovereignty, on July 10, 1858, Lincoln said:

"What are the uses of decisions of courts? They have two uses. First, they decide upon the question before the court. They decide in this case that Dred Scott is a slave. Nobody resists that. Not only that, but they say to everybody else that persons standing just as Dred Scott stands are as he is. That is, they say that when a question comes up upon another person it will be so decided again, unless the court decides another way, unless the court overrules its decision. Well, we mean to do what we can to have the court decide the other way. . . .

"The sacredness that Judge Douglas throws around this decision is a degree of sacredness that has never been before thrown around any other decision. I never heard of such a thing. Why, decisions apparently contrary to that decision, or that good lawyers thought were contrary to that decision, have been made by that very court before. It is the first of its kind; it is an astonisher in legal history; it is a new wonder of the world; it is based upon falsehood in the main as to the facts—allegations of facts upon which it stands are not facts at all in many instances—and no decision made on any question . . . thus placed, has ever been held by the profession as law, and it always has needed confirmation before the lawyers regarded it as settled law.

"But Judge Douglas will have it that all hands must take this extraordinary decision made under all these extraordinary circumstances and give their vote in congress, in accordance with it, yield to it, and obey it in every possible sense. . . ."

LINCOLN ON JACKSON

Then Lincoln told of President Jackson's defiance of the court:

". . . It was urged upon him (Jackson), when he denied the constitutionality of the (federal) bank that the supreme court had decided it WAS constitutional. And General (President) Jackson then said that the supreme court had no right to lay down a rule to govern a coordinant branch of the government, the members of which had sworn to support the constitution—that each member had sworn to support the constitution as he understood it."

Speaking later on men who can mold public opinion vs. supreme court decisions, Lincoln said: . . . "Public sentiment is everything. With public sentiment nothing can fail; without it nothing can succeed. Consequently he who molds public sentiment goes deeper than he who enacts statutes or pronounces decisions. He makes statutes and decisions possible or impossible to be executed. . . ."

Glen W. Kerfoot, McKeesport, Pa., who read here about the 1909 Lincoln penny with the initials V. D. B., sends one as a gift, with a request for more information about the penny. The initials are those of Victor David Brenner, the Russian-born artist whose bronze relief portrait from a photograph taken by Brady, was chosen as the profile for a new penny, the first American coin to bear the effigy of a president. Brenner's initials were incorporated in the design, and immediately there was a hullaballoo about an artist being "advertised" on coins. The treasury removed the initials after 2,000,000 pennies had been placed in circulation. Their value has rarely risen above two cents.

Blame Black Widow Spider Bite In Death Of Sir Guy Standing

Noted English Actor Dies Suddenly At Hollywood Last Night

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25.—Bite of a black widow spider two years ago was given today as a contributing cause of the sudden death yesterday of Sir Guy Standing, 63, noted English actor and wartime commander of a submarine destroyer.

Proud of his physique, Sir Guy neglected medical care in recent months when he complained of pain in his legs which caused him to walk with a limp, friends said.

The poison was believed to have affected his heart, which failed yesterday while he chatted with the cashier of a garage.

"I never felt better in my life," Sir Guy remarked a second before he fell to the floor, writhing in pain and clutching his chest.

The spider bit Sir Guy while "Lives of a Bengal Lancer", in which he appeared as an iron-nerved army officer, was being filmed.

Funeral arrangements were held in abeyance pending word from his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Frances Standing, now in England. She is his third wife.

Guy, Jr., 25, and Katheryn, 22, children by his second wife, Blanche Burton, now on the New York stage, were expected here for the services.

Sir Guy's first wife, who died in 1895, was Isabel Urquhart, an actress related to Fifi Stillman.

The equipment and materials were confiscated Wednesday night by Enforcement Officer Michael Sarko and County Detective A. Sharp Leslie with a group of other officers.

The seizure was made in the Gardner district, but nobody was home when the officers called. The owners can get the matter straightened out by calling at the sheriff's office.

No Hearings On Guffey Coal Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Senator Neely (D) of West Virginia announced today a Senate interstate commerce sub-committee would pass upon the revised Guffey coal bill without holding public hearings.

The bill, drafted as a substitute for the original Guffey act which the supreme court outlawed, would impose federal regulation on the soft coal industry and fix minimum prices for its output. Neely said the sub-committee has asked the Commerce Department for a report on imports and exports of soft coal.

The House ways and means committee recently reported a companion bill favorably and its early consideration by the House is expected.

Will Work Out PWA Grants To Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Assistant PWA Administrator Hackett will confer tomorrow with Gov. Earle of Pennsylvania in an effort to work out a program for PWA loans and grants approximating $44,000,000 to Pennsylvania for a public institutional building program.

"We are trying to work out something that will be satisfactory," PWA Administrator Ickes said today. "We are prepared to undertake a program that would not exceed $20,000,000 in grants on a 45-55 per cent basis."

Reminded that Pennsylvania had asked not only for the grants, but for loans approximating $24,000,000, Ickes said:

"I doubt if we would have the money necessary for such an extensive program, but we are trying to work out the best program we can."

More Than 5,000 In Detroit Are Still On Strike

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Feb. 25.—Fed by new strikes, the ranks of strike idle here rose to more than 5,000 today with more than 20 sitdown and lockouts in progress. Quiet prevailed.

Other strikes also flared up, including the sitdown of 55 charwomen in Detroit's tallest skyscraper, but they were quickly settled.

Latest of the sitdowns still in effect broke out in the west side warehouse of Swift and Company, meat packers. Only nine truck drivers sat down there but they completely tied up deliveries to hundreds of Detroit butcher shops by driving trucks across entrances. The drivers demanded a $35 minimum weekly wage, saying they now were receiving $22.50 to $27 a week.

PAINS AND PANES

Two men occupying the same seat on a bus got into a conversation.

"So you are a doctor, eh?" said one.

"Yes," replied the other.

"Well," replied the first one, "in a way our work is alike. I'm a window washer and work on panes, too."

Mexico Plans To Build New Nuevo Laredo

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, Texas—The Mexican government in an attempt to attract more American tourists through the northern gateway at Nuevo Laredo, will virtually destroy that city and make it over again, it was revealed here by Luis Montes de Oca, director general of the Bank of Mexico.

The bank executive came to Texas to study highway construction and beautification plans.

The new city will have a new federal building to house the various governmental offices which are now scattered through various parts of town.

The streets will be widened, according to the plan, allowing more tourists to use the new Laredo-Mexico City highway with less congestion.

The director general has long been a moving figure in Mexican policies affecting the tourist trade in his country.

He was mainly responsible for cutting "red tape" and permitting Americans to enter the country merely by stating their legal residence, name and license number of their car.

DEMANDS JURY TRIAL AND PAYS PLENTY

(International News Service)

CANON CITY, Colo.—William Kidwell, local rancher demanded a jury trial for his hearing before Justice of the peace R. R. Hartford, on charges of driving his car without an operator's license and then found that the jury costs amounted to more than the fine.

The jury found Kidwell guilty and assessed a fine of $1 and costs. In the costs lay the joker. They amounted to $28.48.

Kidwell could pay neither the fine nor costs so he will spend the next 15 days in jail.

ADVICE OKAY, BUT GIVEN WRONG MAN

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Feeling in an expansive mood, Ralph E. Deering, 23, "helped" the wrong man here recently and landed in the city jail.

Claiming to be an expert at "beating" pin ball and marble games Deering approached E. J. Blazzard to show him how it was done. He said he had "knocked over" marble games from coast to coast.

"It's easy," he said, "all you have to do is paste some paper on this nickle put it in the slot and play all day on the nickel."

His story was so convincing that Blazzard, a detective, took Deering into custody.

Festival Of Purim Opens

Jewish People Begin Celebration Of Feast Of Lots Wednesday Evening

The celebration of Purim, the Feast of Lots, began last evening. The significance of this festival looms large throughout the history of the Jewish people, and the story of the Book of Esther upon which it is founded bears a signal message today.

According to the Book of Esther, Ahasuerus had deposed his queen and chosen Esther, a beautiful Jewish orphan for his new queen. About the same time, King Ahasuerus had raised his general Haman to the position of Prime Minister. Haman had had a dispute with Mordecai, cousin of Esther, and he made his private quarrel a basis of hatred against all Jews.

One day Haman, in counsel with the king, brought charges against the Jews of Persia, accusing them falsely of disloyalty and rebelliousness, without mentioning the name of the people. In his ignorance, the king granted to Haman the power of confiscating their property and exterminating the Jews of his dominion.

At Mordecai's suggestion, Esther invited Ahasuerus and Haman to a feast and there told the king of Haman's trickery and said that it was her own people Haman sought to destroy. The king ordered Haman to be hanged on the same gallows that he had anticipated using for Mordecai.

To commemorate this deliverance from the hands of Haman, the Jewish people established the fourteenth day of Adar as a day of "feasting and joy, and of sending presents one to another and gifts to the poor." The festival typifies the false accusations made against Jews in every generation.

Quick Thinking By Trainmen As Cars Run Wild

Throw Switch To Derail Train, As It Heads For Big Steel Plant

(International News Service)

MARTINS FERRY, O., Feb. 25.—Two trainmen who threw a derailing switch wrecking their 36-car coal mine train and its 15-ton locomotive but preventing it from crashing into the U. S. Steel Corporation's Laughlin plant here today received the praise of many of the plant's 1,700 employes who were saved from harm.

The trainmen, Peyton Roberts and Robert Bryan, Jr., leaped as the mine train ran wild at the pit mouth and started down a long incline leading to the hot mill furnaces. They ran to the derailer, pulled it and sent the train onto the ground near the highway, wrecking about 200 feet of trestle.

Showdown Nears In Sit-Down Tieup At Douglas Plant

(International News Service)

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Feb. 25.—A showdown loomed today in the spectacular sit-down strike of 300 men which, since Tuesday morning, has tied up the huge Douglas Aircraft Corp. plant employing 5,600 men.

As the strikers completed their second night within the vast building where a large proportion of America's total number of transport airplanes are produced, the corporation was invited to a "peace" conference to be held at 2 p. m. today.

Whether Donald W. Douglas, young inventive genius who heads the corporation, would accept the invitation extended by Dr. Towne Nylander, regional head of the National Labor Relations Board, was uncertain.

Douglas' last message to the strikers was:

"Get out or we won't negotiate."

Death Is No Longer News in Madrid

Since the siege of Madrid began months ago, residents of the Spanish capital have become so hardened to death that it no longer attracts the slightest attention. Each resident thinks he or she may be the next. That is why this body lies in a Madrid street, cut down by death hurled from the skies by the rebel bombers, unnoticed and ignored until the sanitary corps comes along. (Central Press)

Pitt Celebrates 150th Anniversary

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—The University of Pittsburgh today began its celebration of 150 years of educational progress.

Beginning today, and continuing through commencement week in June, Pitt alumni, scattered 25,000 strong over the face of the globe, will celebrate the sesqui-centennial of Pittsburgh's famous institution. Typifying the university's phenomenal development in the past century and a half, a 42-story mass of grey stone, Pittsburgh's famous Cathedral of Learning today towers over the green campus of the university which began in a three-room log cabin.

Joining with the university, the city of Pittsburgh officially observed today as University of Pittsburgh Day. In a proclamation issued by Mayor Cornelius D. Scully, the city paid its tribute to its famous educational offspring.

A day of special activities will be climaxed tonight with a sesqui-centennial banquet attended by over 1,000 friends and alumni. Radio will link the gathering to Pitt alumni throughout the nation in a coast-to-coast broadcast.

New Steel Plants Not Exactly Boon Says Judge Smith

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—A warning that new steel plants being erected here and elsewhere are not entirely a boon had been sounded today by Judge Ralph H. Smith.

Speaking before the Allied Boards of Trade, Judge Smith said:

"When Jones and Laughlin and Carnegie-Illinois Steel get their new plants into operation on Second avenue, and at Homestead, Braddock, and Clairton, then the boys at Brackenridge and such towns had better look out. The same thing goes on not only in steel but in many other industries.

"'Such new plants may produce 160 per cent of what the old plants did, but," warned the jurist, "they employ possibly only 48 per cent of the former number of employes."

No Confiscation Of Oil Properties

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25.—There will be no confiscation of British and American-owned oil properties under the new oil laws, it was stressed today at the ministry of economy.

The government company which will be formed to operate government oil properties will naturally enjoy certain advantages, such as tariff exemption and escape from collective bargaining contracts, but private rights will be respected, officials stated.

Boston Bees Will Take Over Scranton

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 25.—The Boston Bees of the National League have purchased the franchise of the financially-burdened Scranton Miners of the New York-Pennsylvania League, it was announced today.

The Miners will be operated as a Boston "farm". Bob Coleman, former major league baseball player and now in charge of the Boston farms, will be manager and John Quinn, son of Bob Quinn, owner of the Boston team, will be president of the local corporation that will pilot the Miners this season.

Correct this sentence: "Now we must sing this slowly," said the radio star, "So our listeners can understand the words."

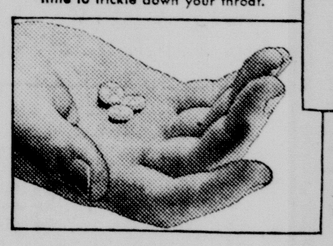

Sore Throat Pains DUE TO COLDS Eased Instantly

1. Crush and stir 3 Bayer Aspirin tablets in ⅓ glass of water.

2. GARGLE thoroughly — throw your head way back, allowing a little to trickle down your throat.

3. Repeat gargle and do not rinse mouth, allow gargle to remain on membranes of the throat for prolonged effect.

Just Gargle This Way with Bayer Aspirin

BAYER

Here is the most amazing way to ease the pains of rawness of sore throat resulting from a cold we know you have ever tried.

Crush and dissolve three genuine BAYER ASPIRIN tablets in one-third glass of water. Then gargle with this mixture twice, holding your head well back.

This medicinal gargle will act almost like a local anesthetic on the sore, irritated membrane of your throat. Pain eases almost instantly; rawness is relieved.

Countless thousands now use this way to ease sore throat. Your doctor, we are sure, will approve it. And you will say it is marvelous.

Get the real BAYER ASPIRIN at your druggist's by asking for it by its full name — not by the name "aspirin" alone.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

States Stung By Tax Schemes

Fiscal Experts Of Various States Lie Awake Thinking Up Ways To Sting Each Other

AUTO FEES ARE CAUSE OF GRIEF

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In each of the 48 states fiscal experts spend a considerable share of their time in trying to think up schemes to make other states pay part of their own state's expenses.

Just now the commonwealths of Maryland and Virginia are incubating a plan by which they hope to sting the District of Columbia.

Automobilists from the capital, it is pointed out, make a deal of use of the very near-by Maryland and Virginia highways. They do, undoubtedly. However, Maryland and Virginia automobilists make a deal of use of the streets of Washington also. But Maryland's and Virginia's spokesmen ignore the latter item. They take into account only the fact that District motorists numerously traverse the roads of the adjoining territory without helping financially to maintain them.

They propose to correct this supposed injustice.

THE SCHEME

The idea is to have the District impose a sockdolager of a tax on its local gasoline-wagons (of course they are taxed already, but nothing much in proportion to the levy which Maryland and Virginia think ought to be assessed against them).

And 60 per cent of the total receipts from this impost, Marylanders and Virginians contend, should be handed over to their respective states in compensation for the utilization of their traffic lanes by Washingtonians. That is to say, 60 per cent should be split between them. The District tax is pretty low, too, its neighbors complain; Washingtonians, they say, ought not to "holler" at a substantial increase in it. For that matter, "Who cares if they do 'holler'?"—provided Maryland and Virginia get what they are clamoring for.

It is much as if New Jersey, and maybe Connecticut, were to ask automotive New York City to tax itself 60 per cent, for the benefit of its suburbs.

NO SAY

Yet there is a difference between Washington's status and New York City's.

New Jersey and Connecticut might yell themselves black in the face for taxes from Manhattan; nevertheless the Empire State never would agree to them.

Washington has not any veto power. Congress is the "last word" in the District. If the national legislature votes a tax upon the District, no matter for whose benefit, the District has to pay it. Taxation without representation? You betcha!

STATE BARRIERS

It may seem as if it were a small local matter.

All the same, these differences in regulation, across state lines, are beginning to cause many complications.

Time was when this country was ONE country. You could go from anywhere to anywhere. Today, if you're an automobile traveler, there are state lines where you pretty nearly have to have a passport. It may come to a point where one will be needed on a Pullman.

TOO MANY AAA'S

Incidentally, the American Automobile association is getting mighty tired of being mixed with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The auto folk invented the title "AAA".

They thought they had it preempted.

They had, as per all patent office rights and copyright rules.

These rules, however, were not proof against Uncle Sam.

The original "AAA" yowled loudly; the new "AAA" held its ground.

ALL MIXED UP

It is inconvenient both ways.

"AAA" gets telephone calls—Why ain't our car fixed?"—and it's the wrong "AAA".

"AAA" gets similar queries—"Wheres my check?"—and that also is the wrong "AAA".

The "AAA" (whichever youre talking about) wants this fixed.

Picked Up In Other Papers

Officer Jimmy McManus of Sharon, was stumped by a tipsy gent hanging for dear life to one of the new parkometers. The officer threatened to lock him up if he didn't go home. "Naw" was the come-back, "can't you see I dropped a nickel in this machine? I'm good here for another 25 minutes."

Struck by a piece of falling slate from the roof of his home, Harold Gallagher, 21, of Prospect, R. D. 1, was seriously injured and may lose the sight of an eye.

A 72-year-old Jamestown, Pa., farmer, John Anderson, suffered severe and painful injuries about the face when he was kicked in the face by a cow Tuesday afternoon. At Greenville hospital it was found his jaw was fractured and several teeth knocked out.

Two years older than the United States of America, the University of Pittsburgh Wednesday with "Charter Day" ceremonies, officially opened its 150th anniversary celebration commemorating its growth from a three-room log cabin in the wilderness to one of the 12 most influential educational institutions in the country.

State Man Speaks Before Kiwanians

Dr. Beshore Tells Club Of Rehabilitation Of Crippled Youth

Members of the Kiwanis club gathered in The Castleton yesterday for their weekly luncheon program, heard Dr. Andrew S. Beshore, Harrisburg, director of the Pennvania department of rehabilitation of the physically handicapped, tell of his department's work in behalf of crippled youngsters over 16 years of age.

During his address, Dr. Beshore, introduced by Daniel H. Treloar, Jr., chairman of Kiwanis' program committee, praised the Kiwanians for their outstanding service to underprivileged children. That is Kiwanis' major work here.

With the speaker as guest came two of his department aides, Ivan Shrader, agent of the department of Pittsburgh, and P. D. Seybold, supervisor of the local district for the department with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

President Thomas L. Paden, presiding, announced that the club will hold a Ladies' Night party on the evening of March 17, St. Patrick's day. Lee E. Allen, chairman for the party, launched arrangements when his committee met after the luncheon Wednesday.

DRIVER HURT IN CRASH, IMPROVES

James L. Householder, of R. D. 1, New Brighton, who was hurled through the windshield of his automobile when it skidded on the Ellwood City-Wurtemburg road early Sunday morning, is convalescing at his home.

Householder was on his way to Butler, when he was blinded by the lights of another car. His machine left the road and crashed into the guard rails. Warren McKim, Ellwood City, Miss Jane Morris and Miss Jeannette Keppler, both of Butler, who were riding with him were cut and bruised.

Seek To Combine Three Telephone Systems Near Here

Portersville, Slippery Rock And Harrisville Systems Are Included In Plan

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—At the request of more than 90 per cent of present telephone users, the Suburban Telephone company of Butler placed before Examiner W. E. Best Wednesday an application for the Public Service Commission's approval to combine three small independent companies into one circuit.

This combined circuit, which will be known as the Butler Suburban Telephone company, a proposed subsidiary of the Peoples Telephone Co., will take over the Slippery Rock Independent Telephone Co., the Harrisville Telephone Co., and the Portersville Telephone Co.

If the application is approved by April 1 of this year the new company proposes to set up dial phones to replace the present old type. The combined circuit will also eliminate toll charges existing under the present system of three exchanges. There will be approximately 700 phones in the new circuit.

According to Arthur Black, general manager of the Peoples Telephone Co., they proposed to pay $20,000 for the Slippery Rock exchange; $5,134.37 for the Harrisville exchange, and $10,000 for the Portersville exchange.

MESSENGER TELLS STORY OF RELIEF

Irregular Work Started Habits That Got Best Of Him

"My work as a special messenger for one of the larger esablishments kept me ready to go anywhere at any time, and I often went out on trips on very sudden notice. I think that was the reason I let myself get into irregular habits. It was not always convenient to stop when Nature asked me to, and sometimes I went all day without attending to her calls," said Herman Sanderbeck of W. Bridgewater, Pa., to a group of men one evening recently.

"A year or two of this resulted in a bad case of constipation. It became so bad that my eyes were yellow, my skin looked greasy and my breath was foul. Even then I did not heed the alarm signals. But when my liver and my stomach both went on a strike, I knew that something had to be done. I got very bilious, and my stomach would not digest my food. I suffered greatly both from pain and bloating. The gas would form in my stomach and press up around my heart so that a walk left me panting, and I could not climb a stairway without stopping to get my breath. My heart thumped like a trip hammer whenever I exerted myself. My kidneys became affected too, so that my back ached a good part of the time.

"Altogether, from a strong, healthy man, neglect of this important matter made me a wreck. I took pills and physics of all kinds. Some of them worked; some did not; none of them gave be any permanent benefit. One day the druggist with whom I dealt suggested to me that I try World's Tonic. He said it had helped many people he knew. I thought it must be a very powerful physic if it was to do me any good, but I found that the power of a medicine is not to be measured by the discomfort it may cause. Instead of griping and purging me, as I expected it would, it quickly restored the normal working of my bowels. It brought about three good passages a day, and it cleaned out my system so that the other troubles soon disappeared.

"I would like to say to everybody, don't let yourself get constipated. Use World's Tonic to prevent it. But if you are constipated, don't lose hope. Use World's Tonic. World's Tonic can be obtained from Eckerd's, Butler, or at any other first class drug store. (A-55)

Your Income Tax In A Nutshell

DEDUCTION FOR TAX ON MOTOR GAS

If an automobile is used for both business and pleasure, all of the maintenance and creating expenses connected therewith, which constitute allowable deductions for federal income tax purposes, should be allocated to the two uses on the basis of the time that it is used for each. For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation, for the taxable year amounted to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction for federal income tax purposes would be $600.

If a law which imposes a tax on gasoline shows that the tax is imposed on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for federal incomes tax purposes, the amount of the gasoline tax paid by him; but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantial as is required by the law and the regulations. The federal gasoline tax is not deductible by the consumer. A taxpayer may ascertain whether the gasoline tax imposed by a state is deductible by the consumer, or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes the tax may be added to the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense; but where that is done, the gasoline tax cannot be deducted separately under the item of taxes.

Winter Fails To Stop Croquet

Venerable Players In New York Play Beneath Shelter Of Umbrellas

MUSICIANS CAN NOW READ MUSIC

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Not even winter snow and winds halt the venerable croquet players in Central Park. In the rain they totter on under umbrellas. All of them are spruce and chipper and each seems so eloquently to say: "There's life in the old boy yet!"

O. O. McIntyre

There are about one hundred left—an organization that dates back to the days when the game was in full flower some 50 years ago. Croquet seems to be an hereditary pastime. It is carried on in families even unto the third generation.

Of course, there are some modern exponents. Such as Ethel Petit Roche, Neysa McMein, Gene Markey, Charles and Kathleen Norris and several others. But they play on private grounds. Th' Central Park devotees are almost all past sixty and unusually hearty, courtly but earnest.

One of the ground keepers tells me he has never heard an argument since he took on his job 12 years ago. Sometimes the old fellows get into a pet and sulk, not speaking to their opponents for several days. But they never voice their anger. Always gentlemen of the old school.

My recent reference to that grand short story, "Skinner's Dress Suit," and a faulty memory as to the author brings information it was the late Henry Irvin Dodge. Also it reveals an early romance in the films. The story was the first directorial assignment of Harry Beaumont with Hazel Daly in the title role of "Honey." It was the first meeting of the director and star and now after 18 years of married life she is still "Honey" to him. Also their children—the Beaumont twins—rate high in the community noted for run away beauty.

Mention of Harry Beaumont is remindful that some day he should be filmed himself in his travesty of the Gay 90 song and dance man doing a "while strolling through the park" number with dance interpolations, funny sayings and gestures. It is as comic as anything in the field of impersonations today and its filming should be preserved for the archives of a period that should never be forgotten. My favorite of song and dance teams was McWatters and Tyson.

A wag on Variety opines the swing music is losing its vogue because many musicians are learning to read music. The best of the swings, to my notion, was that one about Organ Grinder Pete coming down the street. It had a plaintive down beat scattered through it that was haunting. I understand that many high grade musicians regarded this musical moan as a touch of genius.

The famous Riverside Drive mansion—with the puddler statues in the yard—of Charles M. Schwab is likely to become a museum, now that the offer to sell it as an official residence of the New York mayor has been turned down. The beautiful home is almost constantly dark and was last in full glow at the Schwab golden wedding anniversary a few years ago. The steel magnate spends much of his time at his country estate at Loretto, Pa., and when in New York occupies an apartment in a hotel and lunches almost daily at The Ritz.

Paul Whiteman has probably the most valuable cigarette case in the world—originally an enormous plain gold affair, but now with tiny jeweled mementos encrusted over it. Tokens from the Duke of Windsor, when he was Wales, from Chevalier, Stowkowski, Mary Garden, Tibbett and indeed from the pick of celebrities of the screen, stage and radio stars as well as many literary luminaries. They were collected over a period of ten years.

Thingumbobs: E. D. Coblentz, Morris Gets and Billy Gaxton can sing-song a jargon that sounds exactly like Chinese . . . J. Edgar Hoover has stopped visiting night clubs . . . Bill Robinson is Shirley Temple's favorite cinema actor . . . Elsa Maxwell is wanted by backers to direct the town's most exclusive night club . . . Gene Markey, ace movie scenariast, is an accomplished caricaturist.

A big stage laugh of the season is in a play dealing with a goofy family in the Bronx. An income tax man calls and the grumpy man of the house receives him with total indifference. He admits he has never paid taxes and does not intend to. When asked why, he snaps: "Because I do not believe in it."

"I am 'tops' again – because I feel and look like my old self once more"

"How did I do it? "I just reasoned sensibly."

"FORTUNATELY, straight thinking told me that vitality and pep was produced by energy created from within...so was the skin beautified and made clear from within. I found the famous S.S.S. Tonic just the remedy to stimulate lagging gastric juices and to supply the mineral elements for restoring deficient red-blood-cells. Hence greater energy from within... and an added glow to my skin."

Be 'tops' again with more vitality... more pep...a clear skin by taking the S.S.S. Tonic treatment. Shortly you will be delighted with the way you will feel...your friends will compliment you on the way you will look.

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build sturdy health...its remarkable value is time tried and scientifically proven...that's why it makes you feel like yourself again. Available at any drug store.

the motor fuel that proved it starts faster, picks up quicker, than 54 well-known gasolines!

AND HERE IS THE TEST THAT PROVED IT!

The Ross Federal Research Corporation, nationally known fact-finding organization, asked 1214 motorists in 14 widely separated cities to contribute their services in testing a "mystery gasoline" in their own cars. First—the tank of each car was drained of the gasoline it had been using.

The tanks of these cars were then filled with this "mystery gasoline." This unknown motor fuel was Blue Sunoco, with the color left out. E. W. Saybolt & Company, independent petroleum testing authorities, checked this "mystery gasoline" and certified that it was regular Blue Sunoco.

After these motorists had sufficient time to compare the performance of this uncolored Blue Sunoco in their own cars against the gasoline they had used previously, Ross Federal investigators called upon them and obtained their frank, honest opinions of the unknown motor fuel.

QUESTIONNAIRE

Compared to the gasoline you have been using . . . did you get:—

(1) quicker starting? 87% YES
(2) faster pickup? 80% YES
(3) more power on hills? 72% YES
(4) better all-around performance? 95% YES

Table above shows what these motorists reported after comparing Blue Sunoco against 54 other gasolines, 11 being extra-priced. Furthermore, 85% of the extra-priced gasoline users stated that Blue Sunoco performed better than the higher-priced fuels they had been using.

BRIARCLIFF MANOR, N. Y.—Theodore Dreiser, author of "an American Tragedy," predicts an early end of the American writer as an individual: "They don't have to display an individual effort in writing a play or story. All that the writer needs is an idea, and the radio and the movies bring in specialists to develop it and inject synthetic drama."

TREAT A COLD AS IF YOU MEAN IT!

Don't Fool Around with Half-way Measures and Invite Serious Complications!

One of the worst things you can do is "kid around" with a cold.

The so-called "common cold" causes more serious sickness and more enforced absence from work than anything else.

It's a mistake to treat a cold lightly. A cold calls for a cold treatment and not a "cure-all". A cold calls for internal treatment, for a cold is an internal infection.

One of the best things you can take for a cold is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Your own doctor will tell you that.

First of all, Bromo Quinine is a cold tablet, made expressly for the treatment of colds.

Secondly it is internal medication and of fourfold effect.

Here's what it does:

First, it opens the bowels, an advisable step in treating a cold.

Second, it checks the infection in the system.

Third, it relieves the headache and fever.

Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. The sugar-coated are exactly the same as the regular, except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability.

Play safe in your treatment of a cold! The moment you feel the first symptom, go right to your druggist for a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Start taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours. That action will usually break up a cold in 24 hours.

Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is safe to take. Ask the druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine and insist upon getting what you ask for!

The few pennies' cost may save you a lot in medical bills.

Special Services At Temple Israel

Annual Junior Council Sabbath To Be Observed On Friday Night

Special Sabbath services will be held at Temple Israel, Friday evening, 8 o'clock. The annual Junior Council Sabbath is to be held, with members of the council conducting the services and delivering the sermon. Florence Safier, as president, will preach the sermon and she has chosen as her subject, "The Contribution of Women to Modern Jewish Life." Assisting in the reading will be Dora Winnick and Bertha Rosen, while June Frank will read the Biblical portion taken from the thirty-first chapter of Proverbs.

Last week the rabbi made his monthly trip to Polk and was assisted in the work by Mrs. Florence Slavons and Mrs. Freed, of Youngstown. Rabbi Diamond also preached in the Methodist church of New Wilmington on Sunday evening. The open forum inaugurated by him and Rabbi Katz is to be presented at the Cosmo Club this evening, at 8:15.

The Sisterhood dinner is scheduled for 5 o'clock Sunday. There will be a mask party for the occasion of Purim for the children, whether of the religious school or not. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes and special Purim songs will be sung at the table.

Awful thought! How could one radio announcer address another if he forgot his first name?

Clarion Pilot Stops At Local Airport

Zooming down to ground at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, Earnest McCall, Clarion, landed at the local airport on the Youngstown road, to refuel and service his plane. McCall was flying a Taylor Cub and was enroute from Canton, O., to his home in Clarion.

Taking advantage of a strong tailwind yesterday, the flight from New Castle to Clarion, which is a distance of about 60 miles, would require only 25 minutes.

What makes you think our government can't keep out of war? It seems to do rather well when Capital and Labor fight.

Final Returns Made On Party

Community Party For Flood Relief Nets $3,789.05, Mayor McGrath Reveals

COUNTY TOTAL IS OVER $16,000

Final returns from the Community Party, which was held in The Cathedral last month for the benefit of the flood relief fund of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, reveals the fact that $3,789.05 was realized on the venture.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, in commenting on the party today attributed the success of the event to the splendid co-operation and untiring efforts of the various members of the committees which had charge of the party.

Checks for the sum named above were turned over to the Lawrence County Chapter today by L. J. Lewis, who had charge of the ticket sale and financial end of the party. This sum, together with donations made during the past few days raises the county total to $16,654.11, a splendid gesture of generosity on the part of the citizens of the county.

Disaster Relief Chairman Paul F. Butz today asked Lawrence county citizens who still desire to contribute to the fund to send in their money as quickly as possible as the chapter would like to close out the account and send the money to the National Red Cross.

Written and performed entirely by blind people, "The Stowaway," an opera, was a pronounced success when presented recently at Sheffield, England. The composer was A. Varley, one of the city's blind men, and it was his first effort. All parts were playd by sightless men and women, who knew their roles perfectly and moved about the stage with surprising assurance.

Draft Legislation For Revival Of N.R.A. Features

White House Seeking To Partially Revive Outlawed N. R. A. Is Report

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.— The White House drive for federal regulation of wages and working hours was projected a bit more distinctly into the turbulent political picture today.

While senate opponents continued to attack his court reform proposal, President Roosevelt reported his close legal advisers were drafting tentative legislation to replace the old NRA labor principles of minimum wages and maximum hours.

Because supreme court decisions outlawing NRA, AAA and other attempted economic reforms by the administration are widely held responsible for the president's request that an additional six judges be put on the high bench, observers watched closely his preparations to partly revise the Blue Eagle.

Mr. Roosevelt is know to be seeking the advice of a number of persons. The White House concedes that four men are actively engaged in assemblying data. They are John G. Winant, retiring head of the Social Security Board; Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson; RFC Counsel Thomas G. Corcoran, and PWA Attorney Benjamin V. Cohen.

Cradle Roll Day In Sunday Schools

Splendid Results Of Last Sunday Give Added Impetus To "Gold Rush"

Next Sunday, February 28, is "Cradle Roll and Home Department Day" in the increase campaign known as the "Gold Rush" which is being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, and the ladies of the various Sunday schools can again do some good work as these departments are largely in their hands.

One of the goals in the increase campaign is "Effectiveness" and a Sunday school with a good cradle roll and home department is more effective, as it shows that the Sunday school is not only looking to the future by enrolling the babies, but that it is also doing missionary work by keeping contact with those who, due to illness, employment or some other cause, are not able to attend Sunday school.

With the added impetus of the splendid results of last Sunday when more gold nuggets were accumulated than the previous two Sundays, making a total of 717, the increase effort should steadily march on and climax with record-breaking attendance for the last day of the campaign, Easter Sunday, March 28.

McKees Rocks, Pa., Priest Ousted

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—The Rev. Dennis Kulmatyski, pastor of the St. Marys Ukrainian Greek Catholic church, of McKees Rocks, is a shepherd without a flock, it was revealed today.

Because of difference with the congregation, the executive board of the church met Sunday, it was learned, and severed its contract with the priest, at the same time dispossessing him from his house next door to the church. A padlock was placed on the house and a policeman stood guard today to prevent entry.

Dr. Townsend To Take Appeal On Conviction

Says Court Action Will Spur Organization Throughout United States

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Believing most persons throughout the country feel he has been "the victim of an injustice", Dr. Francis E. Townsend said today his conviction of contempt of the House by a local federal court jury will increase the activities of his old-age pension movement.

With his slender form covered by a heavy overcoat, the elderly California physician heard the jury pronounce him guilty of an indictment charging him with contempt of the House by stalking from a House committee assembled to question him about his $200-a-month pension movement. Justice Peyton Cordon directed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty on a second indictment charging Dr. Townsend with refusing to testify before the legislative body.

Elisha Hanson, defense attorney, immediately filed notice of an appeal and the court deferred sentence until next week to give Hanson time to arrange his papers of appeal. Dr. Townsend faced imprisonment from one month to one year or a fine of from $100 to $1,000.

Eat more jam. That is the command of the German government to its people. About 400 factories are to produce jam in large quantities, and it is estimated that in the next 12 months 240,000,000 pounds will be turned out. Plum and apple will be the "body" of this conserve, but 15 percent of "higher grade fruit" will be added to give it more flavor.

Also at the beginning of the present fiscal year there was in the sinking fund, or moneys accumulated to retire bonds, $197,552.06. Indications are that some of the May 1, 1922, issue of $200,000 for sewage disposal plant ground and the incinerating furnace may be paid off this year.

A list of the bond issues for 1922-1936, inclusive, is as follows:

According to the controller, the issue of 1932, which amounted to $60,000, was authorized but was not sold up to January 5, 1936. The bonds were printed but were not put on the market. They were exchanged for certificates later in 1936, Wimer stated.

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

FIRST INDIAN TOWN

Do you know that Kittanning was the first Indian town of the Delaware Tribe west of the Allegheny Mountains?

The Indians came to Kittanning, in Armstrong County, over the Northern Trail, left the forks of the Susquehanna at the present site of Sunbury, folllowed the West branch of the Susquehanna by way of Williamsport, Lock Haven, over Snowshoe Mountain, by Clearfield, Punxsutawney, down the Mahoning Creek, to the Allegheny River, and thence to Kittanning.

This was the first and oldest trail. Second, was the famous Kittanning Trail leading by way of Indiana, Hollidaysburg, Huntingdon, and to Philadelphia.

ANENT COURT PROPOSALS

Editor of The News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

Charles Lamb, the English writer, in one of his books gives an account of the origin of "Roast Pig." In ancient times, a poor peasant had his hut destroyed by fire. In raking over the ruins, he came to the body of his small pig. He started to take hold of it, and it was hot and burned his fingers, and he put them in his mouth and for the first time, man tasted roast pig.

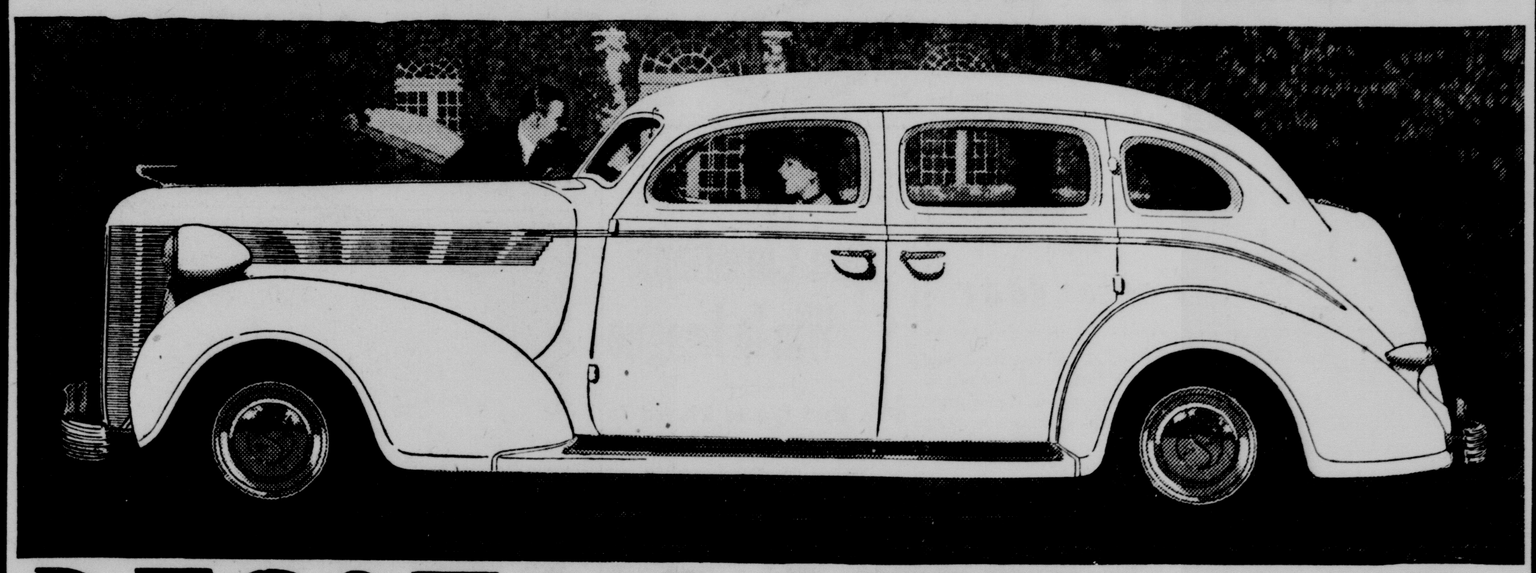

The poor peasant not knowing any better, built himself another house, put his pig in it and again burned his home, and again enjoyed roast pig. It was a long time before the poor peasant discovered, that it was not necessary to burn down his home in order to have roast pig. Neither is it necessary for the United States to burn and destroy its constitutional liberties in order to secure "economic freedom."

In the opinion of the president, it is necessary if we are to have roast pig, that we burn down and destroy our constitutional liberties. Like the poor peasant, there are many better ways to secure roast pig, than to burn our homes in order that we secure this very delectable morsel.

Forum Tonight On Jewish Problems

"Jewish Education" To Be Topic Of Discussion By Rabbis At Cosmo Rooms

The evident enthusiasm for an open forum on Jewish problems of today has been encouraging to all those concerned with its initiation. Rabbis Pinchos Katz of Tifereth Israel Synagogue and Norman H. Diamond of Temple Israel are grateful to the organizations, especially among the women, who have co-operated to make the forum the success that it is. Among these are the Council of Jewish Women, Hadassah, and the Sisterhoods of the Temple and Synagogue.

Tonight the rabbis will discuss a second problem which has been facing Jewry—that of Jewish education. Many believe that it is the most important single problem which faces the Jews of America today, and it is this thesis which will be defended by Rabbi Katz. Rabbi Diamond is of the opinion that other more vital questions confront American Jews. After they have finished presenting their cases, discussion will be called for from the floor. L. F. Kohn, who will preside at the meeting, will direct the questioning and encourage free expression of opinion. The Cosmo Club will be the scene of the gathering, scheduled for 8:15.

Sutherland And Harrison Feud Waning Today

Chancellor Bowman Says "No Reason Why Either Man Should Leave Pitt"

DOVE OF PEACE SEEN ON CAMPUS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25. — The dove of peace flitted today into the feud between Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland, head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh, and W. Don Harrison, director of athletics.

The dove of peace bore in its beak a pointed statement by Chancellor John Gabbert Bowman asserting that the school and its friends appreciated the work of both men and that there was no reason why either should find it necessary to leave.

The statement, in part:

"Both Dr. Sutherland and Mr. Harrison are loyal, hard working members of the university staff, each with his definite responsibility: Mr. Sutherland's to coach the football team and Mr. Harrison's to handle primarily intercollegiate relationships in the field of sports for the university.

Sutherland Returning

"In his dealings with the university administration and with the athletic council, Mr. Harrison has always shown high appreciation for the work of Dr. Sutherland and genuine sympathy for his problems. On the other hand, Dr. Sutherland has entered at no time any complaint to the athletic council or to the university administration concerning a lack of cooperation or of good will on the part of Mr. Harrison. Therefore, until more facts come directly to the athletic council, the matter, so far as the university is concerned, is closed."

Jock was to return today from a speaking trip while Harrison was in Philadelphia on business.

It seemed, however, on the face of things, that the tempest had about boiled itself over and now that the steam was let out of the kettle by Dr. Bowman the situation appeare to be that both Jock and Don will soon be able to reconcile their reputed differences.

Some Lines From Yesteryear

Hugh Hannon, our dancing friend from the West Side and also one of the best announcers in this district, yesterday unfurled some interesting Lines from Yesteryear—harkening back to the happenings he said occurred either in 1895 or 96....He said Tom Fleming played center field for the local team which was then in the Interstate circuit. Fleming also played substitute end on the Y. M. C. A. football team, which Hugh says was composed of George Muse, Jerry Klingensmith, Lou Buffinger, Dave Nessle, Dal Hazen, Bill Butler, Havice, Morgan, Dave Sanwey, Ted Mayne. He said he doesn't recall who played center...He recalled when Grove City college played New Castle on Thanksgiving day. Walter Reynolds played for Grove City. They wore no helmets in those days. Instead they permitted their hair to grow long and act as a cushion for shock. New Castle lost, he reported....Hannon came through with the query: "How many recall the New Castle vs. Sharon, Iron & Oil league game on Decoration day, 1895?....Gussie Gannon of Erie pitched both games for Sharon and Harry Jordan (who New Castle secured from Sharon) hurled both games for New Castle. New Castle won both games, Hannon reported, and for a long time Wells Clendennin had a brown water pitcher in his window which he tagged "Gussie Gannon, pitcher."....Clendennin also had a bat in his window. It was the one which Weir knocked a home run off Jack Stivetts of the Boston Nationals here in 1895, when Boston won 6 to 5....Hannon recalled Frank Seeley, Boston manager, lost $50.00, he wagered New Castle would not score. Weir poled the homer with two out and with two strikes on him. Long, shortstop for Boston, won the game when in the last half of the ninth he tripled to left with a runner on second.

City Baseball Loop Discussed At 'Y' Meeting

League Seeks Six Fast Teams, Baseball Is Staging Fine Comeback Here

Several interested managers of baseball teams met in the "Y" last night and discussed plans for a proposed City Baseball league here this summer. There is every possibility that a fast six-team league can be organized.

At the present time the Sixth Ward Firemen under Joe Ziegler will be in the league, the Ryantown team under Frank Heasley and Joe Samuels will be in the league, and Alex Black of the Tin Mill has stated that he would join the league providing the Tin Mill has a team this year.

"Lefty" Maslyk is organizing a fast team in the Oakland district and will join the league if at all possible. An effort will be made to interest the Colonial A. C. under Jesse McCann, and the Lawrence Indies under Joe Zidow to join the circuit.

Both Zidow and McCann are asked to get in touch with Charles "Bugs" Walther at The News in regard to the league. Mr. Walther presided over the meeting last night and will act as temporary president until a president is named by the league managers.

Ufton Congressman, four year old white, liver and ticker pointer, made the most impressive showing this far in the national field trials when he found five conveys and two signals in the heat of yesterday morning at Grand Junction, Tenn. Tis style, however, was not so good as that shown by some of the other dogs and his bid was not expected to be enough to win the championship. His bracemate, Fourth July Ben, found only three coveys and had an unproductive point but was considered excellent on form. Fourth July Ben, another pointer, owned by Ed H. Ray, of Toledo. Russell Perkins, of Connecticut, owns Ufton Congressman.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25—The post of head football coach at Washington and Jefferson College at Washington, Pa., was accepted today by George W. Roark, head football and basketball coach at Westminster for the past year.

In addition to football, Roark will be in charge of the varsity track and freshman basketball. He will hold a position with the faculty and a one year contract with a two-year dismissal clause attached to it. Coach Roark's Westminster quintet incidentally, has a game scheduled with W. & J. on March 9.

Washington Five To Battle Titans

George Washington Colonials To Visit Westminster Friday Night

TEAM BOASTS OF VICTORY STRING

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 25—Coach Bill Reinhart will bring his championship George Washington Colonials to tackle the Westminster Titans Friday night at 8:15 in the Westminster gym—and for once the Titans will be completely outmatched in height. Eight men on the Colonial squad are above six feet—four of them above six feet two inches.

The Colonials from Washington, D. C., will come with an enviable record—having won 14 out of 16 games played this season. Last year the Colonials dropped only three out of 19 games. A strong defensive, the Washington courtmen have limited their opponents to an average of 26 points a game.

Three of the Colonials hail from Indiana, long regarded as the basketball center of the world, where more people play basketball per square mile than anywhere else on the globe. Three others come from New Jersey. Captain Hal Kiesel, towering nearly six feet five inches, formerly starred at Vevay high school in the corn section of the Hoosier state, Indiana.

Only two teams this season, Long Island and Loyola (Chicago) have been able to fathom the Colonials—and Loyola by only two points. Last year the Colonials lost to only three teams—Ohio State, St. Johns and Long Island, all on opposition floors.

Captian Kiesel at center has an average of nine points per game and is particularly dangerous under the basket. Ben Goldfaden, most feared of the Colonial scorers, also has an average of nine points per game, and is the most deadly of the Washington players under the basket. O'Brien, Irish forward for the Colonials, has an average of 11 points a game.

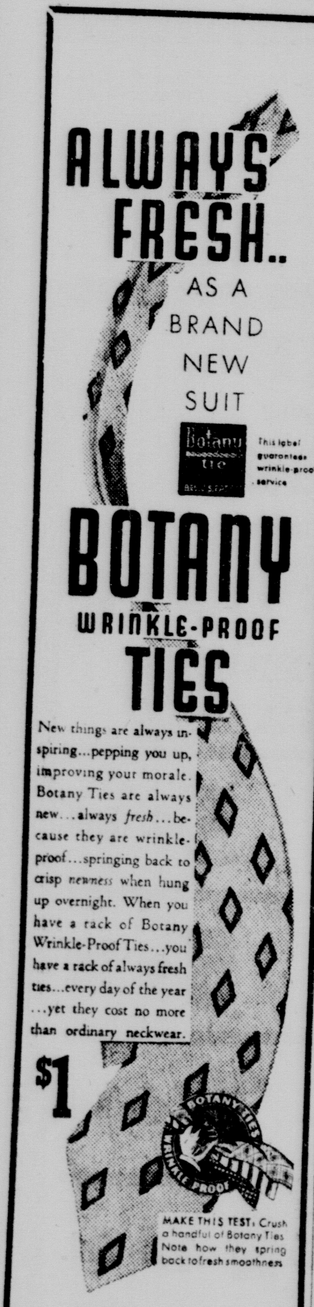

To meet the scoring strength of the Colonials, Coach Roark will rely on Demo, Grubb and Backus to lead in the scoring, with Krivosh, Miller and Gilliland to supply defensive power—and perhaps some scoring, too.

Sam Francis Picked To Break Shot-Put Record In National A. A. U. Games

PIRATES HOPEFUL OF WINNING FLAG

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Excitement over it will be scarcely noticeable, but, nevertheless, Sam Francis, Nebraska's all-America backfield ace last season, today was set up as the favorite for the shot put title in the A. A. U. games at Madison Square Garden Saturday night...Sam finished fourth in the Berlin Olympics, but led the American delegation, which included Jack Torrance and Dimitri Zaitz.

They are seeking a new cornerstone today for resumption of the Gunnar Barlund buildup...Having run out of Abe Feldmans, Sandy McDonalds, Frankie Connolleys and Tom Baupres, they called on Nathan Mann last night...That squat young man's decision still was being celebrated today by fellow-citizens from New Haven, Conn., who came here for the fight...and hollered.

Buddy Baer Next.

An absentee at the ringside was Chairman John J. Phelan of the boxing commission, presumably too exhausted to attend after that commission meeting yesterday, which set a new high for name-calling and wildness....Promoter Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden was present in the rival Hippodrome and still wearing the dinner jacket donned for his peace supper with Commissioner Bill Brown.

Having temporarily rid themselves of Max Baer, the commission will have another Baer to contend with soon...Buddy is coming east from California next month to fight Ray Impellettiere....However, Buddy stands in all right here....Gregory Mangin, winner of the national indoor tennis title four of the last five years, is seeded No. 1 for the tournament starting Saturday, but Frankie Parker, No. 2, will be favored.

Benswanger Confident.

President Bill Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates says he has his best team since the 1927 pennant-winner..."and we should come thru again"....President Horace Stoneham also mentioned the Pirates as threats recently in picking his own Giants to repeat....Tha Cincinnati Reds also are to be feared, the Chicago Cubs respected and the St. Louis Gashouse gang avoided, if possible.

Lou Gehrig's waiting game in his contractural difficulties with the Yankees generally is regarded as a mistake....Owner Jake Ruppert holds the whip hand under the circumstances....But Gehrig plays a better first base....He ought to make more noise about it, baseball men say....Dizzy Dean gets his by out-hollering his bosses and threatening to trade Business Manager Branch Rickey.

Brouillard Wants "Crack" At Title

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Lou Brouillard, satisfied that he won his fight with Marcel Thil in Paris despite the original decision of the judges in favor of the French middleweight champion, is back in New York, anxious to meet Freddy Steele for the world's championship.

"I deserve the right to box for the middleweight title without further eliminations," Brouillard said today. "After a few days rest at my home at Worcester, Mass., I am going to ask the New York commission to give me a chance."

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Boxing and football don't mix, of course, but that Braddock-Louis play in Chicago was a reverse sweep right around Col. John Reed Kilpatrick's end. In football it would be called deception. In the cauliflower game it is known as the double cross, and it's a common maneuver, much older than the Statue of Liberty play.

Col. Kilpatrick, however, is not going to let them get away with the big heavyweight fight in the Windy City if there is a court under heaven that can stop it. Off hand, Madison Square Garden, of which the colonel is president, would seem to have a pretty good case—a contract signed by Braddock to fight for the Garden first, on the strength of which the champion is said to have borrowed some coin which might be construed by some legal minds as an advance.

In his fight to halt the Chicago play, and to force Braddock to go through with his contract to fight Max Schmeling in New York, the head man of the Garden is assisted by an expert in the affairs of Fistiana, James Joy Johnston, who used to carry a card in the Burglars' union himself, and who knows its ways. Col. Kilpatirck could have no abler aid. With the old Boy Bandit to spill the interference, Col. Kilpatrick ought to make the tackle easily. Mr. Johnston understands the aims of the boxing racket through many years of experience, much of it bitter. As Willus Britt, manager of Stanley Ketchel used to say, "There ain't no ethics in the fight business." Mr. Johnston knows that, too.

Phi Beta Key No Help

When Col. Kilpatrick came to the Garden to be its president four or five years ago, he had some faith in the ideal of sportsmanship. He tried to make it work in boxing, though he was advised the two were unrelated. It was just another noble experiment the boys didn't go for. The only rule the boys understand is the police. In the old days, when they fought in barns, only the gendarmes could stop 'em. It seems to be the same way now.

Col. Kilpatrick came to boxing with a fine background of sportsmanship, but it doesn't seem to have caught on. He is an old New Yorker himself, born in the city, educated at Andover and Yale, now in his middle forties. He was a great man at Yale—the Larry Kelley of his day. Not only was he an All-American end, and classed with Shevlin and Hinkey as the greatest Eli ever had, but he came away from New Haven with a Phi Beta Kappa key. The key hasn't been of much help in opening the false locks of boxing, either.

The title he wears was not given to him by the governor of Kentucky. He was a colonel in the 304th Cavalry during the World War. A capable engineer, he became vice president of a construction company after the war. He is a man of system, efficiency and decision. Though he weighs now perhaps a sack of flour or so above 200 pounds, and his hair is a bit gray and thin, he keeps in fine physical trim.

Ran And Played Rough

As a youth he was a sprinter and hurdler. As a Yale freshman he beat Reg Foster of Harvard who twice raced to the 100-yard championship in intercollegiate competition. At Yale he also played on the water polo team, and water polo is held as one of the roughest of sports, unless you figure dickering with boxers' managers is just a trifle tougher.

Col. Kilpatrick was a boxer, too, in college, but he has found that the Marquis of Queensberry rules do not mean a whole lot when one is dealing with fight managers. What the boys understand best is police. They accept sportsmanship only when suggested by men in blue, wearing badges, carrying sticks.

That being the case, the colonel is calling for the coppers. That's all there is left to do.

Release Pheasants On Mercer Farms

MERCER, Feb. 25—County Game Protector George Norse, Mercer, has been busy for the past several days releasing ringneck cocks in different parts of the county. He has been assisted in the work by sportsman's organizations in the county.

In releasing the birds none were placed on any posted farms. While cases are rare, there have been complaints on the part of sportsmen that farmers who have posted their farms have given the privilege of hunting to parties from the city who board with them, or pay for the privilege.

Family Of 6 Wiped Out In Two Days

(International News Service)

VIENNA—Fate has destroyed an entire family of six in two days in Leoben, Syria.

The eldest son died of pneumonia. The mother, whose favorite child he had been, could not bear the grief. She jumped from the fourth story of the house in which the family was living. In her arms, she held her youngest child, a 14-months-old girl. Both were killed.

As the father and his two remaining children were returning home from the funeral, a motor-car ran into the motorcycle on which they were riding. All three were killed.

SURPRISE ALLIGATOR

(International News Service)

MUNICH—Workers hauling gravel at Donauwoerth, on the banks of the Danube, were startled to come upon a four-foot Mississippi alligator asleep in the grass. Not knowing what it was, they hastily killed it. The alligator, which was hibernating, is believed to have escaped from a traveling circus and lived throughout the summer in the warm water of the river.

Underdogs Pull Surprise In Two Games At Shelby

Frisco Noses Out Mechanicals 34-33 In Thrilling Game Wednesday

MATHEWS DEFEAT COLD DRAW 32-24

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 25.—A bomb burst in the City Industrial Floor league at the Shelby auditorium Wednesday night when the underdogs rose to great heights to defeat their highly favored opponents in thrilling games.

In the first encounter the crack Mechanical team, winners of the first round without a defeat, suffered their second setback of the second round when they were nosed out by the Frisco cagers 34-33. The Mechanics ran into a tartar this time as they met with stubborn resistance at the hands of Frisco. The underdogs took a 10-6 lead in the opening stanza but the Mechanics rallied in the ensuing period to deadlock the count at half time. The situation was reversed in the ensuing period when Frisco outplayed their opponents 10-5 when the score read 28-23. The Mechanics staged another rally but the final whistle cut them short and Frisco won 34-33. DeTullio, Boone and Cowan were prominent in the attack for the victors, while Captain Robuck, Vandrello and Johnson were outstanding for the losers.

The second game of the evening was a real surprise as the lowly Mathews staged an uphill battle to finally take a convincing 32-24 victory over Cold Draw. They trailed throughout the game until the final stanza when a sudden rally led by Cole and Hazen put them ahead. Cold Draw led 9-7 in the first quarter, 17-12 at the half, 20-18 in the third quarter and then the Mathews staged their rally in the fourth quarter to win 32-24. Kraynack, a newly acquired player for the Mathews, also played a fine game. Ferrucci was best for the losers.

In Saturday's games the Cold Draw and Mechanicals will clash in the first game and the Office and Finishing in the second. Finishing cagers, who are the title defenders, are undefeated in the second round.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESFEALL

Friday evening an anniversary will be celebrated . . . it will be the 20th year a certain woman's social club has been in existance . . . it is the wish of this column to learn the full meaning of the club's name . . . the public very seldom hears anything about its doings but a good many people know it by its name . . . Its founders call it the W. S. . . . what does this mean? This is probably one of the oldest clubs in New Castle and we claim they should tell the correct meaning of their call name.

Red of Wampum writes . . . The pastor of our church also has a sense of humor. On Sunday when a small boy 'way down front coughed he told him to catch the barks in his handkerchief and take them home with him...What struck me funny, said Red, was the idea of coming home and shaking out the barks into a safe place for future use . . .

While we are in Wampum we might mention the Tarzan that is operating The Chewton garage . . . I have never seen the man but from what my pal "Icy All" reports, he must be some man . . . what is his name please?

* * *

Red those were nice red lips you put on Jefferson . . . I doubt if the government would like it.

* * *

Why is Doris Marvin spending so many evenings, in Slippery Rock?

* * *

Why is Chris Clark always giving a toast?

Where was Bob Weingartner Sunday night . . . Beaver or Butler?

Did Dan Treloar find his tux pants?

This old world is a mass of questions . . . help us answer them.

Stock Market Buoyant Today

Metal Shares Lead In Market Splurge Today, Steels, Motors, Rails Improved

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Another splurge in metal shares featured a generally buoyant stock market today, heavy buying centered in the cheap base metal shares sending the high-speed ticker 2 minutes behind in the first hour.

Blocks ran to 10,000 shares of Mother Lode, which later went into new high ground at 3 for a gain of a half point. Such issues as Park Utah, Callahan Zinc, Silver King, and St. Joseph lead in the higher brackets, advanced, all reaching new 1936-37 tops. Gains ran from fractions to more than 2 points.

Steels, motors, rails and utilities were substantially improved. Chrysler spurted close to 3 points at one time, but lost part of this under light realizing. General Motors, Studebaker and Nash-Kelvinator were fractionally higher.

Gains in steels were modest, including those of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic. Youngstown was lower.

Union Pacific and Southern Pacific set the rail pace, the former jumping well over 2 points and the latter half as much. N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific and Great Northern also were in demand.

Armour crossed 13 to new top. Aviations were mixed, as were rubbers and foods.

Bonds pointed upward in moderate dealings. Grain were slightly higher. Cotton was mixed.

After waiting 46 years for a pier the fishermen of Portnaguran, Hebrides Islands, off the coast of Scotland, are beginning to hope that one will materialize. Officials of the Department of Agriculture have visited the place, and indications are that the recommendations of the government commission of last century will be carried out.

Typical reaction to the destruction of our forests, soil and wild life: "Awful, ain't it! What's the market doing today?"

And the Motorist Escaped Death in This Accident!

Automobile with road guard rail driven through, end to end

A road guard rail plunged through the radiator of this car, ripped past the motor, up under the steering wheel and tore away the front seat on the driver's side in a freak accident near Springfield, O.—and the motorist escaped death! The motorist, Ray Liddell, 41, of Columbus, O., had skidded into the guard rail, which split on striking the front of his car, one-half going the whole length underneath the car and the other half as shown in this photo. Liddell suffered a fractured pelvis.

State Building Program Will Be Speeded Up

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—Plans forged ahead today for Gov. George H. Earle's $56,000,000 institutional building program.

Acting quickly following the promise of $70,000,000 in federal funds, the governor last night organized an authority, the necessary extra-legal body to administer the belated program.

Because of constitutional limitations of the commonwealth's borrowing power, an authority was necessary to take advantage of the federal funds through four per cent loans.

The authority consists of the secretaries of propery and supplies, internal affairs, state treasurer, auditor general, senate president pro tempore, the governor, and two persons appointed by the senate president pro tempore and chief executive. State-treasurer-elect F. Clair Ross and Auditor General-elect Warren Roberts, were named by the governor and Sen. Harvey Huffman, senate president pro tempore.

As an executive director, to serve at $12,000 a year, the authority selected Deputy Adjutant General, S. Janeway and as counsel, James P. Rossiter, former mayor of Erie, at $7,500 a year.

The authority announced another meeting Monday afternoon when tentative plans will be made.

Thought to be such a case as would take but a short time to complete the petition of the City of New Castle to declare the Taylor building on Grove street, a nuisance has developed into something of an endurance contest.

The petition is being heard by Judge W. Walter Braham without jury and thus far a considerable amount of contradictory testimony has been adduced. Testimony has been given that the structure is unsafe, that it will endanger lives and that it is being built improperly and to controvert this testimony has been offered to show that the structure is entirely sound, that it is being built properly and will last a lifetime.

It has been overlooked in this column but the menu of the lawyers banquet Saturday night at the Field Club calls for turkey. Its an old legal custom and the turkeys are always brought in whole and carved by members of the bar. This may be just a custom but it may also be just a precaution against the waiters getting away with all the white meat. The waiters are other members of the bar.

Formulate Demands To Be Presented To Chrysler Motor Co.

Parley To Be Inaugurated On Wednesday On Collective Bargaining Program

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Feb. 25—Strategists of the United Automobile Workers Union today formulated a "program of demands" to present to the Chrysler Motor Company at their collective bargaining conference with the corporation next Wednesday.

Ttentative agreements for the parley were completed during the night after Chrysler, the union announced, became the second of the "big three" in the industry to agree to meet with the union in a collective bargaining conference.

Similar negotiations already were underway with General Motors. The Ford Motor Company remained the only one of the "big three" today on which the union has not made a request for a meeting. Union officials would not comment on the possibility of serving a demand on Ford nor would they discuss a statement attributed to Homer S. Martin, president of the UAW, who said during the recent GM strikes:

"Chrysler is next—then Ford."

Acceptance of the request for a parley by Chrysler averted possible strikes in the company's nine plants, located in Detroit, Windsor, Los Angeles and Newcastle and Evansville, Ind., where about 50,000 factory workers are employed.

Hope To End Shirt Strike

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 25—The possibility was advanced today the Spaide Shirt Company strike, in progress since January 27, may be settled this week.

Ernest C. Dunbar, regional director of the National Labor Relations board, reported the chief obstacles in the way of a settlement was company recognition of the union.

"We hope to have that settled by the end of this week," he said. "That is the only obstacle of any importance holding up work."

Shutdown of the plant threw 150 employes, mostly women, out of work. The company contended it closed its plant to prevent a rumored "sitdown" strike. Workers charged the compaiy shutdown was due to company opposition to union organization of its employees.

WORK SECURITY FUNDS RECEIVED

HARRISBURG, Feb. 25.—More than 62,000 Pennsylvania employers by February 18 had contributed $7,289,651.66 to the Unemployment Compensation Fund, Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore, announced today.

With less than a week remaining in which to file employment records and make contributions, the fund in this state at present is about one-third of the total amount anticipated by the department, Mr. Bashore said. However, receipts are increasing daily and will probably reach two millions of dollars per day before the closing date of February 28. He stated that the Department was preparing to handle this amount through the final days of the month.

In these mineral constituents, he added, soy bean flour far surpasses any of our common foods, such as cereals, legumes, vegetables, fruits, meats, nuts, milk and eggs. Soy bean flour is one of the richest sources of lime. It is practically free from starch, containing less than one per cent. Try the wonderful bread. Sold exclusively at
